

DAMAGE TO THE NORTHWESTERN

CAPTAIN OF VESSEL DESCRIBES WRECK

Makes 1600 Mile Voyage From Valdez to Esquimalt Under Her Own Steam.

Representatives of the insurance company carrying the risk on the steamer Northwestern, which was wrecked at Esquimalt yesterday, and the manager of the Northwest Steamship Company, on behalf of the owners, today made an inspection of the vessel with a view to ascertaining the amount of damage done.

The first break is about sixty feet from the bows and for fifty feet aft of this the plates are buckled and bent in, the dent extending three feet above the level of the keel and in two places there are holes clean through the hull. The false bottom with which the steamer was made ready for her trip south is from three to five feet in thickness and shows through the larger cracks and holes. How admirably it answered its purpose may be gathered from the fact that the whole voyage from Valdez, a distance of over 1600 miles, was made by the Northwestern under her own steam. From the Sand Heads to Esquimalt, the Northwestern was in tow of the William Joffe but this was only done as a precautionary measure.

"During the voyage south the Salvor kept beside the Northwestern, but the latter vessel did not require any assistance until she grounded at Sand Heads so that it was not found necessary to do any towing.

The owners of the steamer have not yet decided on the firm which will repair her and pending their decision, only a small amount of work, such as leading out the false bottom of the hull, can be done on her. For the present, Capt. Truebridge and the crew will stand by their vessel. Except for a ripped bilge keel on the starboard side, where most of the damage was done, there is no outside indication of the great dent in the bottom of the Northwestern's hull, and the full extent of the damage can only be measured from beneath.

In conversation with a Times reporter yesterday, Capt. Truebridge, answering a question regarding the accident to his vessel, said that the navigation of the bay in which the steamer struck was rendered difficult by reason of the absence of any chart. The Northwestern was leaving the wharf at Beaton's, which is a camp connected with the Beaton copper mine, when she struck a reef close in to the shore. Neither the bay in which the wharf is situated, nor the reef, are marked on the chart showing Latouche, and the captain was solely dependent upon information regarding the close proximity of the rocks which he received from the men on the wharf. This information was to the effect that the reef extended only thirty feet from the shore and the vessel was steered accordingly. She struck the reef at a distance of 175 feet from the shore, the men in charge of the wharf not knowing the exact distance which the rocks (Continued on page 2)

REBELLION SPREADING.
Hongkong, June 5.—A serious outbreak of rebellion is reported to have occurred at Wuchow, about 30 miles south of Peking, formerly the refuge of the pirates in the Gulf of Tong Sing. A mob of rebels is attacking the city and troops have been applied for from Canton. The rising at Wuchow is dying out, owing to the energetic action of the local authorities.

FROM SETON LAKE.

J. P. Babcock Has Returned From a Trip to the Hatchery.

J. P. Babcock, fisheries commissioner for the province, returned last evening from the Seton Lake hatchery, where he has been inspecting the work now in progress at that place preparatory to beginning operations this season. A slide from the mountain interfered with the work there, damaging a part of the dam and the waterworks. It was necessary therefore this spring as soon as possible to have a part of the dam removed which had been wrecked by large rocks which slid down from the slopes.

The work is all progressing satisfactorily and will be ready for the arrival of the fish as soon as the run commences.

The damage to the work necessitated the liberation of the sockeye a little earlier during the past season than would otherwise have been the case.

The weirs for the present season will be put in position in July. When Mr. Babcock was at Lytton the Fraser had then reached the 40-foot level. The residents below were beginning to be fearful of the consequences, fearing that the water would rise still higher. The 45-foot level is looked upon as the danger mark.

MODEL FARM ON JAMES ISLAND

DR. FINDLAY MAKING GREAT IMPROVEMENTS

He is Fitting Up His Valuable Estate in the Most Approved Manner.

Dr. Findlay, who recently purchased James Island for the sum of between $20,000 and $30,000, is rapidly transforming the island. It is the intention of the doctor and his charming wife, Lady Findlay, to convert their estate into a little paradise. There is no doubt about result being achieved. It is easy to imagine how beautiful their house will look when the vines, creepers and roses planted around it, grow up and cover the whole of it, making it picturesque, while during the summer the whole atmosphere around it will be fragrant with the sweet, delicate perfume of choice roses.

The week his gardener, whom the doctor has brought from the Old Country, a man specially skilled in garden landscape work, and not only general but special horticultural work, will commence to make the gardens around the house homelike and lovely. In a few years this property will become the showpiece of the province, under the guiding hands of the doctor and Lady Findlay and their able employees. That the doctor has an eye to the sport to be obtained on Vancouver Island is very obvious; for there will this week arrive from England two thoroughbred deerhounds and also two thoroughbred retrievers, together with a Chow-Chow dog. No expense has been spared in procuring the best specimens to be procured of these most valuable dogs.

With his five horse power gasoline motor launch, the doctor is in constant touch not only with Victoria and the mainland, but also with all his neighbors and their beautiful surroundings. It is almost wonderful how much Dr. Findlay has been able to do in the way of improvement in so short a time. Besides making large additions to his own house, he has built a new house for the men working on the estate. In the way of outbuildings, one should at least be mentioned; for his cow barn is quite a model one in every respect, being built according to the newest and best approved type in order to ensure the perfect health and cleanliness of his stock. Other minor improvements built are the pig sty for his high-class Berkshire, the chicken house for his prize poultry and a lot of Elwood wire fencing.

There is to be a great work of improvement in the year four acres of strawberries and fruit trees have been planted; stump pulling and rooting up, has been done over 10 acres of ground and in addition a considerable amount of general slashing and clearing. It goes without saying that a large number of men must be employed to carry out this work.

The doctor and Lady Findlay are great believers in mixed farming and they are endeavoring to have the grazing portion of their island home stocked with only first-class stock. To them their island is not a mere ranch, it must remain such; it must be a home and must also have its home farm; it must not be only a model farm, but it must pay its way; it must prove its economic action of the local authorities.

Sergt. Carr has a good record, but has never before shot at Bisley. Gunner Fisher has the distinction of being the youngest member of the Canadian team. Scarcely out of his teens he has made a good record for steady work as a marksman, serving in the Rocky Mountain Rangers before joining the Fifth.

ATTEMPT TO KILL JUDGE.

Bomb Found in His Home—Italians Suspected.

New York, June 6.—Accidental discovery of a bomb in a box which also was filled with dynamite and fulminating powder in train with a fuse in the home of Joseph Kennell, a police judge of Durham, N. J., yesterday, prevented the destruction of the house with its dozen inmates.

The attempt to kill Judge Kennell is laid to criminal Italians, of whom he has sent to prison a score or more for theft and blackmail.

SIR ROBERT BOND SPEAKS PLAINLY

WARNING TO THE HOME GOVERNMENT

Repetition of Recent Action Would Lead to Disregard of Constituted Authority.

(Associated Press.)
London, June 6.—The Western Indian Club gave a dinner last night at the Hotel Cecil in honor of Sir Robert Bond, premier of Newfoundland. Jos. Chamberlain sent a letter expressing his hope for ultimate union of Newfoundland.

Sir Robert, in reply to the toast to his health, said that he would not challenge the correctness of Mr. Chamberlain's statement, but such an union at present was neither desirable nor practicable.

Referring to the recent meetings of the Imperial conference, Sir Robert said he had told the government that a repetition of its action of last year would not only be regarded as humiliating to the colony, but would lead to a total disregard of all constituted authority within it. He was not without hope that before he returned something satisfactory would be arrived at regarding the matters in which Newfoundland is interested.

Sir Robert said it was his pleasure to admit, reports to the contrary notwithstanding, that he had received the most courteous treatment from His Majesty's ministers in all the negotiations with them.

SEEKING LIFE OF GRAND DUKE

SUPPOSED PLOT TO KILL CZAR'S BROTHER

Discipline Instituted Among Troops at Palace Caused Revolt—Mutinous Soldiers Disarmed

(Associated Press.)
St. Petersburg, June 6.—There have been so many alleged attempts lately against the lives of members of the Imperial house of Russia that scarcely a day passes without adding to the number.

The latest, according to Novoe Vremya, was a deliberate design on the life of Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovich, younger brother of Emperor Nicholas. In any event, a serious accident was narrowly averted.

The scene was the Gatchina road, leading to Tsarskoe Selo, and the time yesterday afternoon. Piles of stones, completely blocking the highway, were discovered just before the passage of the auto bearing the grand duke. They were hurriedly removed and the Emperor's brother passed in safety.

Revolt Among Soldiers
St. Petersburg, June 5.—The fourth squadron of Hussars of the Guard, stationed at Tsarskoe Selo, to which place the Imperial family had removed, revolted today against the strict discipline which had recently been instituted by a new commander.

The trouble for a time threatened to spread through the entire regiment, but the mutinous troops were promptly surrounded and disarmed by other troops and order was restored without bloodshed. The ringleaders have been turned over to a court-martial.

Admiral Nevill, the commander of the cruiser squadron, is such an enthusiastic motorist, says the Cur, that he carries his motor car on board ship with him and uses it whenever port is touched.

THE TRIAL OF MAYOR SCHMITZ

ATTORNEY HENNEY'S ADDRESS TO JURY

An Alleged Plot to Carry on a Systematic Scheme of Blackmail.

San Francisco, June 6.—The auditorium of the Jewish synagogue on Bush street was crowded to its limits yesterday when the hour arrived for the beginning of the actual trial of Mayor Eugene Schmitz on the charge of extorting money from local French restaurateurs on threat to prevent the renewal of their liquor license.

Judge Dunne, upon motion of the prosecution and over the determined and spirited objections of the defense, formally disqualified Sheriff Thomas O'Reilly and Coroner William Welsh as unfitness by personal bias to perform any court functions in connection with the trial, and appointed William J. Biggins an alior to have charge of the jury until a verdict has been rendered or a disagreement reached.

Shortly after adjournment of court on Tuesday, Biggins—who for some months past has been Abe Ruef's father-in-law—marched the jury to the St. Francis hotel, where the "twelve tried men and true" will be kept under lock and key during all the time that they are not sitting in the trial. Judge Dunne decided that the jurors shall have no newspapers, no letters, no mail, no relatives, no friends, no one relating to the case have been, censored; they may receive no general mail, nor may they be communicated with by their families except under the scrutiny of the elisor.

By request of Assistant District Attorney Henney yesterday the court instructed all witnesses to retire, and all of them except former Police Commissioner Burton, Reagan and Pohlman were excused until to-day.

At 10:20 o'clock to-day Henney began his opening statement to the jury. At great length and with extreme minuteness he laid before the jury the plot, as alleged by the prosecution, of the part of the mayor and Ruef to "carry on a systematic scheme of blackmail" through the instrumentality of the police commissioner.

Henney outlined the mayor's entrance into office, and traced the political friendship and association of Schmitz throughout the time of his inception of office. He recited the facts as to the indictments and their surrounding incidents. Henney spoke for an hour.

The partial examination in Chief of ex-Police Commissioner Thomas Reagan followed. Much data from the minute books of the police commission for the years 1904 and 1905 was introduced, and the secretary of the commission, Officer Chas. F. Skully, was questioned in relation thereto.

DOUMA MAY BE DISSOLVED.

Faction of Constitutional Democrats Faver an Appeal to the Country.

St. Petersburg, June 5.—In spite of the surface tranquility and the devotion of parliament to work, rumors of its approaching dissolution, probably this week, were discussed in the lobby and they are considered likely to cause an immediate change of policy on the part of the Constitutional Democrats, a strong faction of which believes in appealing to the country on the basis of the Constitutional Democrats with a popular issue.

Prof. Mikuloff, leader of the Constitutional Democrats, is fighting the plan, believing that the situation is not yet critical enough to justify the abandonment of the present tactics.

St. Petersburg, June 6.—The body of a girl which the police believe may be that of Floretta Whaley, who eloped from Hempstead, Long Island, with J. J. Cook, former minister in that town, on April 29th, was found in Harlem river to-day.

The body has been in the water about ten days. The police at Hempstead have been asked to come here and view the body.

MURDERER'S CONFESSION.

Killed a Companion and Threw His Body Into Lake.

Portland, June 6.—Confessing to the wanton and deliberate murder of his friend, John Johansen, in a lonely cabin in the woods near Ten Strike, Minn., last February, and now suspected of having encompassed the death of the brother of his victim, Pete Mathieson, a young Dane, 28 years old, was taken into custody by Detectives Basy and Hellyer, of the local department, and Deputy Sheriff J. M. Bailey, of Bemidji, Minn.

Johansen and Mathieson were employed by a timber concern near Ten Strike and jointly occupied a cabin. According to the story told to Deputy Sheriff Bailey, Mathieson shot his friend while the latter lay asleep in his bed, and then to make sure that life was extinct beat the body of his victim to a jelly. Dragging the remains of his victim to a nearby lake, Mathieson cut a hole in the ice and dropped the dead man into the water.

With a cheque for $400 which Johansen had recently received from Denmark and a pay cheque for $15 belonging to his victim, Mathieson repaired to the saloon of Bob Nelson, in Ten Strike, and obtained the money.

Mathieson, evidently fearing detection, gave out the statement that Johansen had gone to Oregon, and in company with Hans Johansen, the brother of the dead man, started for the Coast.

After arriving here Mathieson addressed a letter to the postmaster at Ten Strike signed John Johansen, to send all mail to Portland. He also communicated with Nelson relative to sending two grips by express to him here. These two letters furnished the clue to Mathieson's whereabouts, and Chief Gritzmacher was communicated with by telegraph.

Shortly after the receipt of this city of Hans Johansen, and the detectives fear that Mathieson may have ruthlessly slaughtered his victim's brother, fearing that the latter suspected him of the murder.

COKE SHORTAGE IN THE NORTH

THOMAS KIDDIE IS SEEKING A SUPPLY

Hadley Smelter Will Have to Close Down if Fuel Is Not Obtained

Thomas Kiddie, manager of the Brown-Alaska smelter, situated at Hadley, Prince of Wales Island, Alaska, is now in the city accompanied by Mrs. Kiddie. He expects to spend a week or ten days here and on the Sound but may be delayed longer if the fuel proposition is not solved in the near future as the smelter will have to close down for lack of coal and coke.

Mr. Kiddie says that that is the only obstacle in the way of progress at the northern smelter. The Treadwell mines are in much the same difficulty but have the advantage that they are able to use oil to a certain extent. The supply of coal and coke which they have been able to get at Hadley has been limited all along. They have got the greater part from Comox with shipments from the state of Washington. When the Comox supply fell short of the needs, the fire in the Comox mine with the cessation of shipments from there will have a very bad effect upon them at the smelter. He is of the opinion that work will have to cease there about to-day until further shipments of fuel are received.

There has been a change in the ownership of the Brown-Alaska smelter and Mr. Brown has disposed of his interests to the president of the company, G. W. Mumford, who is coming from the East to take over the stock and will be in Seattle in a few days.

The ore receipts at the smelter, Mr. Kiddie says, are sufficient to keep the works going all right if only the fuel supply could be obtained. From Maple Bay on the Portland Canal there are steady shipments of ore. These are highly silicious and require considerable in the shape of fluxes. This is to be overcome in the near future, however, as the company is about to take over some other mines in the vicinity of those which are now in character and will work well with the ore now arriving.

Mr. Kiddie came south at this time for the purpose of trying to do something in the way of solving the fuel shortage by arranging if possible, for more steady supply from somewhere.

In addition to this work he has in hand also the purchase of additional machinery for the smelter. In this connection he will place orders for the installation of the hot blast system which he made so great a success at the Ladysmith smelter when he was in charge there.

The weather at Hadley has been delightful since the spring opened. He says that it is much warmer than in Victoria.

JAP TROUBLE PURELY LOCAL

BARON OHAWA ON "FRISCO INCIDENT"

At Tokio Opinion is Expressed That Government is Taking the Proper Steps.

(Associated Press.)

London, June 6.—Baron Takekoto Ohawa, vice-president of the Japanese Red Cross Society, who has arrived from New York to attend the Red Cross Society conference which is to open here on June 10th, throws cold water on the sensational reports of the ill-treatment of Japanese in America, to which some of the most staid English papers are devoting much attention. In an interview to-day he said:

"Naturally, as a member of the House of Peers and a politician, I was anxious to see to what extent any anti-Japanese feeling existed in the United States. I may say the San Francisco affair is much more local than I thought it was when I was in Japan. The attitude of the investigations in the United States enables me to declare that the feelings of Americans toward my country are most cordial. No-toward did I find the least sign of unfriendliness with the exception of San Francisco. We in Japan wish the relations between the two countries to become more and more harmonious, hence a desire that no such jar as occurred in San Francisco should be a purely local one, should be repeated."

Protection Wanted.

Tokio, June 6.—The Nichi Nichi, commenting on Japanese and American relations, to-day says: "Even traditional friendship will not escape a rupture should incidents like those that have occurred in San Francisco be repeated. Whether the sufferers are school children or restaurant keepers, or the site of persecution be limited to California, it does not alter the fact that our compatriots are victims of anti-Japanese outrages."

"Japanese go there under treaty protection. President Roosevelt's unwelcome message to the last congress was received here with eminent satisfaction, but actual developments since prove it a total failure. What we want are not so many expressions of civilized sentiment, but one set of efficient protection of the treaty rights of Japan."

The general tone of the Japanese press is becoming outspoken, and unless an assurance in some form is made to insure the safety of Japanese in San Francisco it is feared that the friendly relations between both nations will be endangered. The Japanese press is full of the progress, is outspoken as usual, but it should be remembered that while deserving of consideration his being out of office permits him a free expression of his opinion. Count Okuma, president of the position of a critic. Even when in power his cabinet lived only a few months.

Expect Damages.
Tokio, June 6.—Afternoon—Leading papers here whose opinions are worth quoting are absolutely silent on the question of proceeding to the settlement of the San Francisco affair. Commonsense people only expect reparation in the form of damages for the loss of property by Japanese residents and the punishment of assaults. It is believed that the government of Japan is taking proper steps in the matter while the public is irritated at the tardiness displayed in effecting a solution of the difficulty, its opinion has not yet reached a stage advocating an appeal to a hostile demonstration in any form.

BRITAIN'S POLICY AT PEACE CONFERENCE

Instructions to Delegates Have Been Prepared—Representatives Leave Next Week.

London, June 5.—Instructions to the British delegates to the peace conference at The Hague having been drawn up by the foreign office, and the cabinet at a meeting yesterday having agreed to the policy which is to be adopted by the delegation of Great Britain at the conference, there will be a meeting between Foreign Secretary Grey and delegates at the foreign office so soon as the clerical work is completed, and the British representatives will leave London for The Hague on June 13th.

Joseph H. Choate, of the American delegation, leaves England for Holland on the same date. He has had frequent opportunities for discussing the subject of the conference with Sir Edward Grey and Ambassador Reid, and one of the first callers at Mr. Choate's hotel upon his arrival here was Premier Campbell-Bannerman, with whom the ex-ambassador discussed the proposal to bring the question of the limitation of armaments before the conference.

Mr. Choate has also received much attention socially. King Edward's reception of the American diplomat at the levee held at St. James' palace on June 3rd being particularly cordial. Mr. and Mrs. Choate lunched with the Prince and Princess of Wales yesterday.

ran, and therefore misdirecting, unconsciously, the course of the steamer. The tide was falling at the time and the Northwestern could not be backed off. At low water she lay with her bows on one beach and her stern on another, resting easily, but at high water the whole weight was thrown on the part impaled upon the rocks. Had it been possible to float her before the continual grinding stove in so many places, the damage would have been much less but the delay in salving caused by unfavorable tides after the Salvor's arrival, helped to weaken her condition. This salvage operation was carried out with dispatch the crew of the Northwestern and Captain Truebridge lending every assistance to the Salvor's men. After the break in the hull had been covered with a false bottom of sand and cement, the four great pumps carried by the salving steamer were installed, and the water pumped out at the rate of 1200 tons an hour. There was fourteen feet of water over the reef when the steamer struck and at high water after the repairs had been effected, she was floated off. The steamer was then taken to Swanport, over eighty miles north, near Valdez, and beached. At low water the damaged portion was accessible without resort to diving and the holes were plugged outside and in and all made ready for the long trip to Esquimalt. About twenty feet aft of the break there is a steel bulkhead which shuts off the fire room and it was this bulkhead which really saved the vessel while she was on the reef. Between this bulkhead and the damaged part two extra bulkheads of wood were constructed, so as to confine any water which might be taken on the voyage. The vessel was then heavily shored, timbers being placed in position to strengthen the beams and after this work had been accomplished, she was pulled off the beach and the journey to Esquimalt began.

Under her own steam the Northwestern came slowly down the inside passage, the occasion requiring that she be handled with "kid gloves" which made the outside trip less favorable. The Salvor stood by all the way, but, although heavy seas were encountered upon several occasions, the Northwestern behaved splendidly and the services of her consort were not required until she ran on the Sand Heads during thick weather on Monday. During the whole trip only two pumps were operated, one being run at half speed continually, and the other being used for twenty minutes out of every hour. This kept the vessel dry, the tempo-

EARTHQUAKE IN ECUADOR.

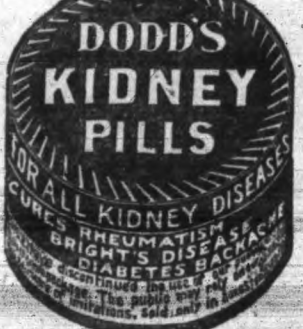

Number of Families Abandoned Houses
and Spent Night in Streets.

Guayaquil, Ecuador, June 5.—Three earthquake shocks were felt here at about ten o'clock last night. The first was slight and the second, which lasted twenty-five seconds, was violent, and made families abandon their houses and remain in the streets for several hours, fearing a repetition of the disturbance, which was severe enough to cause the church bells to ring.

Quake in France.

Paris, France, June 5.—A slight shock of earthquake was felt here to-day, but no damage was done.

Herr Poppeu, formerly an official of the German foreign office, has been sentenced to three months' imprisonment for giving information concerning the colonial administration to Herr Krueger, a member

ORCHARD TELLS STORY OF CRIMES

Says He Acted at Instigation and Under Pay of Leaders of Western Federation of Miners.

Boise, Idaho, June 5.—Alfred Horsa-ley, alias Harry Orchard, the actual assassin of former Governor Steunenberg, went on the stand to-day as a witness against Wm. D. Haywood and testified to a long chain of brutal, revolting crimes, committed by himself, he said, at the instigation and for the pay of the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners.

An undertaking by counsel for the state that they would later offer proof and in connection with this make his testimony legitimate, opened the way
like a floodgate to the whole

Diabolical Story.

and throughout the entire day, Orchard went from the recital of one crime to the recital of another, each succeeding one seeming more diabolically horrible than the one preceding it.

He has more brutal crimes to tell,
which will bring his bloody career down to Caldwell, where with a bomb he killed Steunenberg. This will come tomorrow for he is to make the stand
when the court sits again.

The story to-day was told before a rigid anxious crowd which staringly watched every movement and word of the witness, a crowd that sickened and grew weary of the fearful details long before James H. Hawley, pleading illness at 3 o'clock this afternoon, obtained adjournment for the day.

Orchard obtained control of himself almost from the moment he took the stand, and if he suffered he did not show it. His eyes were bloodshot and his face mottled when he came into the room to confront the man whose life he jeopardized.

He Was Plainly Nervous.

He quickly steadied himself, however,
and was soon collected and talked in soft, easy tones. His eyes met those of Haywood several times, and they glazed fixedly at each other without flinching.

Orchard's entry into the court room
after a dramatic pause was intensely dramatic.

Five witnesses who traced Orchard's and Jack Simkins' movements at various times before the Steunenberg murder—Wm. D. Haywood, at Nampa and at Silver City, and identified hotel registers on which they had signed their names, took up the first hour of the morning session with their testimony, and then Senator Borah, looking towards the bench, said in a quiet tone:

"It will be a few moments before the next witness arrives." The crowd knew Orchard was to come and watched the doors of the room. The prisoner-witness, long confined in the penitentiary, was to be produced. Haywood's mother, Mrs. Carruthers, of Salt Lake City, and her daughter, sat beside the prisoner and his wife, having arrived yesterday. The prisoner's daughter was absent. Haywood had a notebook and at intervals took notes of the proceedings.

Horsley had spent the night and morning at the office of Mr. Hawley, and was brought to the court house in a carriage with

Three Armed Guards.

In the chambers of the judge he was turned over to Deputy Sheriff Beamer,
who is to be his special guard at the trial.

Orchard confessed that as a member of the mob which wrecked the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill in Coeur d'Alene
he lighted one of the fuses that carried fire to the giant powder explosion, confessed that he set the death trap in the Vindicator mine at Cripple Creek, which killed McCormick and Foreman Beck; confessed that because he had not been paid for his first attempt at violence in the Vindicator mine he was Treacherous to His Associates.

In warning the managers of the Florence and Cripple Creek railway that there was a plot to blow up their trains; confessed that he cruelly fired
three charges of buckshot into the body of Detective Wm. Gregory, of Denver, killing him instantly; confessed that for days he dogged Governor Peabody of Colorado, about Denver for a chance to kill him; confessed that he and Steve Adams set and discharged the mine under the station at Independence,
which instantly killed fourteen men,
and confessed that, falling in an attempt to poison Fred Bradley, of San Francisco, he blew him and his house up with a bomb of gelatine powder.

"Call Harry Orchard," cried the state's leading counsel, when the sheriff had signalled that all was ready.
There were a few preliminary questions
as to Horsley's birthplace and real name and his first day in North Idaho, and then Mr. Hawley had him relate his part in the destruction of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine. He was telling of the meeting of the Burke (Idaho) Union of the Western Federation of Miners when the defence objected on the ground that the events had occurred years before. Haywood became a member of the central body of the Federation, and that he was in no way connected with it. Senator Borah contended that the state had a right to submit facts about the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine to prove that the Federation became hostile to Governor Steunenberg.

Judge Wood ruled that the general facts were admissible, but he limited
the miner details of this part of the testimony. Horsley then told of the Blowing Up of the Property.

In which he said W. F. Davis, later president of the union of the Federation at Cripple Creek, had convinced the mob. He narrated the seizure of a train, the theft of giant powder, the attack on the mines and in concluding,
said: "I lit one of the fuses myself."
Horsley described his flight into Montana and the various journeys in the west till he turned up at Cripple Creek in 1902, when he went to work in the mines and rejoined the Federation.

Renewed objections by the defence were overruled by the court on the strength of repeated promises by the state that it would show the connecting link of the defendant with this event later.

The witness then told of the plan to blow up the Vindicator mine. He confessed that after the strike began he went into the mine, "high grading," and there discovered a quantity of powder. He reported this to Davis, and there, he said, began the plot to do violence in the mine. He said the first attempt was a failure because the cangemen discovered him and his accomplices, but later a contrivance was successfully fixed by which the discharge of a pistol set off a bomb and killed Supt. McCormick and Foreman Beck. Five hundred dollars, he said, was the reward for the murder.

Then came the journey to Denver,
where the witness said he met Meyer Haywood and Pettibone, and entered their employ.

As an Assassin.

He swore that Haywood paid him $300
for blowing up the Vindicator mine.
Then came the making of two bombs that were tossed into the coal heap at the Vindicator mine, but were never heard from again, and then a confession that before the successful attempt at the Vindicator mine he had notified the railway management of the plot to blow up their trains carrying non-union men. Next Horsley related how he went to Southern Colorado as a guard to Meyer, and here the narrative, which had been attacked by the defence at every material point, halted for the noon recess.

Word that Horsley was on the stand spread through the city and in the afternoon every available seat for the public was taken. Horsley spent the noon recess under the guard at Hawley's office and after recess was driven back to the court house to resume his story. He recounted his journey with Meyer and his return to Denver, where it was suggested, he said, that he kill Governor Peabody, of Colorado. He said he chose Steve Adams to aid him, and together they tracked the governor between the capitol and his home, seeking to shoot him with shotguns.

Haywood and Pettibone
were in the plot, he said, and furnished money from time to time. The plot failed because Horsley and Adams followed a carriage containing two women to the Peabody home and excited suspicion. Next came a plot to dynamite Peabody. Horsley said they made a bomb, but gave the plan up on the suggestion of Haywood, who feared they would be arrested.

Harry Orchard gave his residence as the penitentiary.

"Are you charged with any crime?"
asked Mr. Hawley, for the prosecution.

"I am charged with the murder of Frank Steunenberg, and waiting trial," he answered. Further questions, he continued, "I was born in Northumberland county, Ontario, in 1884, and am therefore 41 years old. Harry Orchard is not my true name. I have gone by that name for about 11 years. My true name is Alfred Horsley. I came to the United States in 1896, first to Spokane, Idaho, and then to Boise, Idaho, in March, 1896. I first worked for Mark Thiers, driving a milk wagon, and remained there until about Christmas, 1896. I then went to a wood and coal yard in Burke and was engaged in the business until the spring of 1899, and my own account for two years. In 1898 I sold a half interest in the business to Mr. McAlpine.

My Business in Canada

was making cheese. I sold all my interest in the wood yard and went to work making in the mines in March, 1899, continuing at it for a month. I immediately became a member of the Western Federation of Miners.

Orchard described the Coeur d'Alene county, giving the railway connections between the different cities and mining camps.

"State what unusual occurrence
there was at Burke on the morning of April 29th, 1899," commented Mr. Hawley. Mr. Richardson's objection was overruled. Judge Wood said: "The court can readily see how this testimony may be material."

Orchard, proceeding, said: "On the morning of April 29th, 1899, when I got through breakfast I was told there was a special meeting of the union and everybody expected to be present.
I went to the meeting."

Mr. Richardson's objection was again overruled.

"The meeting was called to order,"
continued Orchard, "by the secretary, who said it had been decided that they should go to Wardner to blow up the mill at the Sullivan and Bunker Hill mines and to hang the superintendent."

Haywood's counsel objected to the evidence, and Senator Borah explained that the prosecution would show that Haywood was fully connected with the conspiracy, and that it was necessary to go into the Coeur d'Alene trouble to show the motive for

The Murder of Steunenberg.

The objection was disallowed and Orchard continued: "Arrangements had been made to cut the wires along the railroad and take possession of the Northern Pacific train. At Gem we were to be joined by the Gem union and together we were to proceed to Wardner. While the secretary was telling us what was planned by the central union, the president of our local came in and said he had not been informed of the meeting. When told the purpose he objected to it, and there was a discussion. The motion to go to Wardner was finally carried by a small majority. After the vote nearly every man decided to go.

"Paul Cochran and six other members of the union took charge of the train, we went to Gem and took forty boxes of giant powder. There were about 1,000 men on the train, most of them armed. At Wardner we were told by W. F. Davis to line up. The men with long guns were told to take the front ranks, followed by men with shotguns. We were told to fire upon the mill as we approached. This we did, and the fire was returned by the guards. It soon developed that there were no men there, and we took possession. Powder was placed about the mill, and it was blown up. I lit one fuse, I don't know who lit the others."

WITHOUT FOOD.

Surveyors Ran Short of Provisions and for Two Days Had Nothing to Eat.

Edmonton, June 5.—Captain B. J. Sam-ders, the surveyor, has returned from a week's trip in the Rockies. The captain and a party of six men left Innisfail for Rocky Mountain House, taking provisions and ten pack horses. Only four of the party have yet returned. The others left Rocky Mountain House by boat on Saturday to come down the river. They should have arrived in Edmonton on Monday, but nothing has been heard of them, and Captain Saunders is very anxious. The men are two days overdue now, and unless they arrive within another two days Captain Saunders will go in search of them.

Rocky Mountain House, where are the ruins of an old Hudson's Bay post, is 200 miles up the Saskatchewan river. The purpose of Captain Saunders' trip was to ascertain the feasibility of the construction of a railway running north and south between the Grand Trunk Pacific and the main line of the C. P. R. "I am not at liberty to say who is protecting the road,"
the captain said, "but I think there is no question as to the practicability of building it. The proposed railway will be on the east side of the mountains."

Captain Saunders' party ran short of provisions a week ago last Friday, and were compelled to go on short rations.
For two days before they reached here
they had nothing to eat. The party found great difficulty in getting through the country. The fallen and burnt timber district around the Brazos river was at most impassable. It took eight days to make Rocky Mountain House from Medicine Lodge Hills, a distance of 150 miles.

Capt. Saunders says many settlers are taking up land along the Saskatchewan east of the mountains. They are for the most part Americans. According to him, there is little to justify the gold rush into the mountains.

WHY SPRING BRINGS WEAKNESS

WINTER WEAKENS THE SYSTEM AND ALLOWS DISEASE GERMS TO ENTER.

Great epidemics, such as fevers, infectious skin diseases and pestilence breaks out in the spring.

Winter shuts out fresh air from many homes, and only a few get even a little sunshine. The blood naturally grows thin, colorless and diseased,— we rest easily, sleep poorly and have headaches. In this condition we are easy prey to sickness and fill the hospitals and graveyards.

You must create resistance and strength.

The blood must be purified, must be given power to expel the seeds of spring fever.

Ferrozone is the only remedy. It calls back vim and energy, fills the body with vitality, makes every fibre
sing with new found life and health.

That gnawing tiredness leaves you—Ferrozone drives it away. Sleepless nights are turned into periods of rest, and you pick up fast. Day by day your appetite improves,—this means more food is transformed in nutriment that will build and energize weak organs. The inclination to worry passes away because Ferrozone imparts nerve —tone and bodily strength that prevents depression.

Think it over—Ferrozone is a wonderful tonic, in fact it is more because it establishes health than lasts. Thousands use it in the spring and thereby cleanse and restore the entire system to a perfect condition. You'll feel the up-lifting power of Ferrozone in a week,— it's bound to help you if you only give it a chance. Sold by all dealers, 50c.
a box of six boxes for $2.50; be sure of the name Ferrozone.

DR. FALCONER'S RESIGNATION.

Dr. R. Magill Nominated as Successor for Principalship in Halifax Presbyterian College.

Halifax, N. S., June 5.—Dr. R. A. Falconer has resigned the principalship of the Halifax Presbyterian College, and Dr. R. Magill is nominated by the college board as his successor.

The resignation was laid before the college board at its meeting, when Dr. Falconer was present. This action was in view of his decision to accept the offer of the presidency of Toronto University.

The board, while greatly regretting to lose the services of Dr. Falconer, were unanimously of the opinion that he should

CANADA'S POSITION.

The thought must not be entertained for a moment that we are prejudiced against the people of the United States. We admire the individual American exceedingly, knowing him to be at heart one of the best fellows in the world. At the nation collectively we gaze in wonder and amazement as it surges along, carrying its business with it to lunch, to bed—everywhere—except to baseball matches, but sometimes protesting that a game which lasts an hour and a half takes up too much valuable time. What we do not appreciate is the disposition of our friends across the border to look upon Canadians as a "subject race," to whom it is not necessary, and might be bad national form, to show any deference. That, we presume, is the spirit which has moved our brethren, whenever any question has arisen between them and the Dominion, to look across the line at us with disdain and carry the case direct "to the foot of the throne." In fact, we have been repeatedly taunted with occupying a dependent position and often told that our opinions and sentiments and desires are of little consequence. Sometimes efforts to have matters of particular importance to us settled without reference to our views have been successful. Of late years, however, the Imperial authorities have been more careful in their actions, more disposed to bend their ears to the views of Canadians in matters in which our interests were supreme, and, while always maintaining a deprecatory attitude towards our neighbors, less inclined to yield to their demands. The Americans had their way in the case of our sealers to all intents and purposes, although the international court decided that their claims that Behring Sea was their own special preserve were absurd. Not until the present year, when a British Columbia sealing vessel was seized in the midst of a Japanese fleet plying its business without the possibility of foreign interference was the purport of the Paris "regulations" practically demonstrated. No official explanation can now remove the impression from the minds of Canadians in this section of the Dominion that a grievous and unjustifiable wrong has been inflicted upon them by the British government for the purpose of cultivating the good-will of Americans.

The manner in which the Alaska boundary dispute was settled proved the culminating point in the three-fold method of adjusting disputes. It resulted in the protest of Mr. Aylesworth and the firm determination of the Canadian government that henceforth it must have a potent voice in all negotiations in which vital interests of the country are involved. Hitherto the press and the statesmen of the United States have been disposed to jeer at what they regarded as Canadian pretensions to sovereignty, using the word in a limited sense. But recent attempts on the part of representatives of the federal government of the States to deal directly with the Imperial government in several matters outstanding between the United States and Canada proved abortive, for the reason that in each instance the communications were forwarded to Ottawa. There is a suspicion that our good neighbors cherished the belief that they could make the present ambassador at Washington, Mr. Bryce, an instrument for the promotion of their ends. Mr. Bryce went to Ottawa and heard some plain expressions of opinion which convinced him that the men in power there, backed unmistakably by Canadian public opinion, were determined that in future there would be no surrender of Canadian rights for concessions of doubtful value. If American statesmen require further proof of Canada's supremacy in all matters likely to affect her present or her future materially, they have it in the announcement that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. W. S. Fielding, at the solicitation of three of the great nations of Europe, are now engaged in negotiating commercial treaties with these nations. Germany is convinced that a challenge to commercial war has not been rebuffed to her advantage. She is willing to declare the conflict at an end. France and Italy are satisfied that it would profit their people to have more intimate commercial relations with this country. Consequently it may be well for all concerned to note that, if in the strict sense of the term Canada's powers are not sovereign, they are supreme in all matters not strictly of Imperial import.

Mr. Harry Orchard's character, if one had the opportunity to study it, might prove more interesting than his career as outlined in the witness box. It is not conceivable that this assassin in a wholesale way committed the deeds set forth in his evidence on his own initiative or without purpose. There must have been some moving impulse behind him. Whether that force was the mine owners with the callous idea of discrediting the mine workers or the mine workers with a no less cold-blooded motive, must be left to the judgment of the world. It is not at all probable the verdict of the jury will determine the matter finally or that the heartless, conscienceless human butchers will ever be punished in a United States court. The point of interest to observers at a distance is that if such things had been done in Russia they would have caused comment in American newspapers as the inevitable fruits of despotic government. The conclusion of all thoughtful persons must be that there are no popular forms of government under which acts can be committed that would have excited the horror of many an arbitrary ruler in the middle ages.

Two more American chorus girls have just been wedded to American millionaires. Apparently the bewitching ladies of the ballet and of the chorus find the average moneyed man an "easy mark." One of them, asked to explain the phenomena of their conquests, has told the representative of a New York newspaper, that she has had several offers of matrimonial bliss under the most flattering financial circumstances. It is only a matter of selection that keeps her on the stage. "A chorus girl has simply to smile and smirk at a millionaire and he belongs to her—if she cares to have him. There are millionaires of many different kinds. I would as soon have a Pittsburgh steel as a Pittsburgh millionaire. The New York millionaires are not so soft as those from the West." Very complimentary to the intelligence and character of the very wealthy, is it not? No wonder Andrew Carnegie spends the greater part of his time in his stronghold in Scotland and John D. Rockefeller surrounds himself with an unpurchasable bodyguard.

The Doukhobors have given up the lands other settlers are striving so earnestly to acquire because "God is their sovereign and they cannot conscientiously bow the knee to any earthly potentate." That is to say, the Doukhobors would rather forfeit their valuable possessions than become British subjects. It is useless to reason with them and point out that the yoke of British citizenship is easy and the burden so light as scarcely to be felt. They have brought their ideas of monarchical forms of government from Russia with them. These mistaken views can only be eradicated by education. Nine years of experience of British institutions has not convinced the Doukhobors that if they took the oath of allegiance to the Mounted Police, those Cossacks of the plains, might not scourge them with whips. The second generation may know better.

SALVATION ARMY AND IMMIGRATION.

To the Editor:—You cannot serve God and Mammon. If Brigadier Howell will make another howl equal to the one you report in Tuesday's issue, I support the Army's immigration scheme, working men and women in Canada, and Victoria in particular, will do well to closely watch this combination of soul saving and labor bureau maneuvers. Allow me to quote from the Times report: Brigadier Howell says: "Let the Old Country people solve their own social problems, let them deal with their own wrongs." Could anything be more brutal than this? Could anything be further from the teaching of the Master? Brigadier Howell answers: "How can you make this compatible with the 25th chapter of Matthew, with verse 13, which says: 'Whoever will save his life will lose it, and whoever will lose his life will save it.' Who made the request? The Employers' Association. Where were they intended for? British Columbia. Why did telegraph message work wrong and first? Why did it take from November to March to find there was a strike in Victoria? Why was not a message sent to the Army first in Victoria before engaging men in the west? Why were these men brought from their families? Then the wires get hot with the messages. If the Army had nothing to do with whom men are they so anxious that the money be returned to the Employers' Association? Why must the Army only assist those who can assist themselves? Again I would ask Mr. Howell to turn to the Master's word, Luke 14, 34: 'And if you and I, though we be men, cannot save ourselves, what thanks have you, for sinners also tend to sinners to receive as much again.' Working men and working women, carefully read Mr. Howell's speech and you will be more than ever convinced that the devil comes in all shapes.

CHINAMEN FINED.

Conviction Secured Against Them for Attempting to Evade Payment of Head Tax.

Quong Chang Duck, the Chinaman charged with attempted evasion of the $500 head tax required by Dominion law, and two other Celestials, Liam Poo and Sam Wai, who aided him in this attempt, were this morning fined $100 each in the provincial police court by Magistrate Hall.

Lee Mun Kwong, interpreter for the local customs office, gave evidence relative to the method employed by the accused to deceive the officials. His testimony agreed with that of Collector of Customs John C. Newbury, which is given in yesterday's account of the proceedings published in another column. The conviction of these men will undoubtedly act as a deterrent in the way of future attempts of this nature. The case was particularly interesting, inasmuch as it was the first of its kind in British Columbia. The case for the prosecution was conducted by Frank Higgins, acting for Mr. Newbury. W. Monahan defended the Chinamen.

HARRY ORCHARD
RESUMES STORYCONTINUES EVIDENCE
IN HAYWOOD CASE

Crimes Calumniated in the Assassination of Former Governor Frank Steunenberg.

(Associated Press).
Boise, Idaho, June 6.—Harry Orchard, the man who says his true name is Albert Horsely, who assassinated former Governor Frank Steunenberg on the night of December 30th, 1906, resumed his gruesome story as a witness against Wm. D. Haywood, secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners in the district court this morning.

The following story of five years' crime has not been finished. The climax is to come to-day, if indeed there can be a climax more terrible than the one already reached in the narrative told by the witness.

The story of crime with which Haywood is charged is a revelation to the people of this country, if the story told by Orchard is true.

To-day Orchard must tell of the stormy night in December, 1906, when he set a bomb and blew Frank Steunenberg to death within sight of his children and within hearing of his wife.

The testimony yesterday commenced with his career in California after an attempt on the life of Fred Bradley, who, according to Orchard, was blown from his own door into the street and fearfully hurt by a crude bomb placed by Orchard under a mat in the early morning. Bradley is now suing the "Frisco Gas Company," it is said, for personal damages resulting from the explosion which he claims was caused by escaping gas. It is possible that Bradley may be called by the defense to refute the testimony of Orchard.

Fred Miller, one of the counsel for the defense, is said to be in "Frisco," and it may be that he will secure the presence of Mr. Bradley.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS.

Annual Convention of B. C. Branch is Being Held in This City.

The seventh annual convention of B. C. branch of the International Order of the King's Daughters, was formally opened this morning by Mrs. Shaw provincial secretary, at 10 a. m. in the lecture room of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

The delegates attending from the various circles in the province were: Cowichan—Miss Wilson, Miss Norcross, Miss Lomas, Miss Duncan and Miss Dorothy Basset.

Vancouver—Miss Henderson, Miss Chiswell and Miss Sutland.

Victoria—Miss Murray, Miss Elford, Mrs. Marvin, Mrs. Hardie, Mrs. Jenkinson, Mrs. McGregor, Miss Mackay, Miss White, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Day, Miss Lugin, Miss Helmcken, Mrs. Geoff, Miss Felt, Miss Sorby and Mrs. Watt.

There were also present the members of the provincial executive, Mrs. Shaw, Miss Leitch, Mrs. Morley, Mrs. McKicking, Mrs. Edgson and Mrs. McDonald.

The devotional exercise opened the meeting conducted by Rev. W. Leslie Clay.

The business part of the convention opened with an address of welcome by Mrs. Watt.

Miss Brown replied to this in a most sympathetic manner, being the bearer of greeting from the Dominion and also the international executive.

Miss Brown could not refrain from expressing delight at the lovely scenery of Victoria. She was particularly touched with the warmth of her reception and was very thankful that at last she had had the opportunity of meeting the members in British Columbia and hoped that as Mrs. Shaw had been able on one occasion to represent British Columbia at the Dominion convention, so British Columbia would also continue to be represented.

Mrs. Macdonald spoke a few words of appreciation in behalf of the Cowichan delegates and Miss Chapman, on behalf of those from Vancouver. The following conveners of committees were appointed: Credentials, Miss Wilson; resolution, Mrs. Watt; finance, Mrs. Morley; hospital, Mrs. Hardie.

Then followed a very interesting discussion as to the best means of raising money for carrying on the work of the order, Miss Brown giving some very valuable and helpful suggestions.

In regard to membership it was announced that when the number of members reached 250 the local branch would be entitled to elect a member to a seat on the central council of the international order.

After the closing prayer by Miss Brown the delegates adjourned for lunch to the Cow Corner tea rooms.

An informal reception will be held this evening at the Alexandra Club from 8.30 to 10.30 p. m. by the society of the King's Daughters of Victoria, to which King's Daughters and all friends who are desirous of joining the order are most cordially invited.

During the reception this evening refreshments will be provided, and a most enjoyable reunion of old friends is promised.

ARRIVE HERE SOON

Local Naval Authorities Notified That Cruiser Will Reach Esquimalt
on June 18th.

The British Admiralty has notified the local naval authorities that the first class cruiser Monmouth will reach Esquimalt on the 18th inst. No information, however, has been received whether the cruiser which is believed to be present at Yokohama has yet sailed from that port.

Arrangements are now being made for the coaling of the vessel when she arrives at Esquimalt. It was thought first that she would proceed to Comox, but this idea has been abandoned and she will now load from scows which will be towed to Esquimalt harbor loaded with coal.

Throughout her stay in these waters the Monmouth will lie in Esquimalt harbor. Should she arrive on the 18th, and war vessels are usually punctual to time, she will be here for the better part of a week, and it is not expected that Prince Rupert will arrive here on the 18th and 19th, and after spending two days here he will leave on board the cruiser on the 21st.

NEW CARRIAGE WORKS.

T. M. Brayshaw Has Faith in Victoria
As a Manufacturing Centre.

T. M. Brayshaw has lately been experiencing the great stimulus which is occurring in local industries. Formerly he has been carrying on manufacturing and repairing work in the same department. This is no longer possible. He is compelled to have two separate and enlarged departments in order to expedite the due execution of his orders. Tenders are now out for a carriage factory to be erected at the corner of Government and Thame streets. The new building will be a solid structure of iron, two stories in height, 60 by 180 feet in dimension.

Mr. Brayshaw, after an experience of a number of years of the requirements of Victoria, and of the work which is able to be turned out in the local factories, is convinced that the old days of expensive importation of goods in the various branches of industry are over. The time has now come for the establishment of local industries to meet the commercial demands of a prosperous and rapidly developing community and especially in this case with the wagon trade, and a very short time will be sufficient to prove that local talent is not a whit behind the work of the older established firms of the East.

At the present moment, Mr. Brayshaw has an order for rigs from Spencer's. One of these is for a rubber-tire truck of original design for a furniture van. This line of work Mr. Brayshaw has made a specialty of. He has also ideas for improved designs for laundry and ice wagons. In the near future he is determined to extend the huck and landau business in this city.

Mr. Brayshaw is an expert in Australian hard wood—he has selected it and worked it for years at a factory in Dunedin, N. Z. In the lighter vehicles the frame will be of Australian hardwood but the wheels and shafts will be of hickory. On the other hand there is no wood superior to the Australian for the heavy work class of wagons for both frame work, wheels etc.

Mr. Brayshaw has made careful calculations with the result that wagons can be built in this city and placed in Alberta and sold at the same price as wagons manufactured in the East. Thus there promises to be a great future to develop in this city a great industry bringing with it not only an increase in the wealth and prosperity of the city, but employment for a great number of skilled artisans and carriage works and artistic designers and upholsterers. Mr. Brayshaw is not alone in his opinion. Only the other day an eastern man having expert experience in connection with this subject gave it as his matured opinion that Australian wood can be put upon the market here at the same cost as eastern wood can be obtained in the East. The most up-to-date machinery will be installed, some of which is already on hand, and the plant will be able to turn out ten vehicles each week. He will not confine his orders to Australia, whenever the requirements of any specially high class work demands it wood imported from Mexico and other places will be used.

SLEPT WHILE STANDING.

Woman Who Dropped to the Floor in Slumber.

A woman who would fall asleep anywhere while walking about or even eating her meals, was described at an inquest at the London City Coroner's Court on Mrs. Mary Ann Dabbs, fifty-six, wife of a bookseller living in Rosewood street, St. Luke's, who it was found, died from heart failure.

The husband stated that his wife had during the last few months become terribly stout, and as a result would sleep morning, noon and night. She would doze off at her breakfast, or while undressing, and sometimes she would get out of bed, walk across the room, and then fall asleep. INTEREST IN CONCERT.

Seats Selling Rapidly For Arion Orpheus Entertainment Programme in Fall.

Seats still continue to sell rapidly for the Arion-Orpheus concert to-morrow night. Although many seats are already gone, some may still be procured in the orchestra and the balcony, and it should be borne in mind that for a concert almost any seat in the house is as good as another.

The interest evinced in the coming concert has seldom been surpassed in local musical circles, and doubtless the fact that such well-known Tacoma musicians will be in attendance has served to increase this interest. The programme is of a varied character, and on the list are some of the most popular classic selections, notably the Pilgrim's Chorus, from Tannhauser, which will be rendered by both clubs. The full programme follows:

PART I.

1. Soldiers' Chorus from Faust. Gounod. Arion and Orpheus Clubs.
2. First Symphony. Beethoven. Victoria Amateur Orchestral Society.
3. Bass Solo. H. T. Hanlin of Tacoma.
4. (a) I Know Not Why 'Twas So. (b) In Media Vita. Orpheus Club, of Tacoma.
5. Contralto Solo. Mrs. Brougham, of Vancouver.
6. Pilgrim's Chorus from Tannhauser. Arion and Orpheus Clubs.

PART II.

7. Relegued. Arion and Orpheus Clubs.
8. Lotoska Overture. Cherubini. Victoria Amateur Orchestral Society.
9. (a) The Miller's Daughter. (b) Idylle Mongolienne. Orpheus Club.

AORANGI ARRIVES.
Completing her voyage between Sydney and this port in 23 days, the Canadian-Australian liner Aorangi pulled into the outer wharf last night. She sailed from the Australian port on the 13th of May, and left Honolulu, her last port of call before she arrived here, on the 29th ult.

The purser's report of the voyage is as follows: "The weather throughout the voyage has been exceptionally fine, even for the Pacific. The Aorangi has a full cargo and passenger list and every opportunity has been taken of indulging in the usual deck games, concerts, etc., which has added greatly to the enjoyment of all."

Capt. J. D. S. Phillips is in command of the Aorangi, and among her passengers was Capt. Henson, lately in command of the Miowern, who is on his way home to Ottawa on a vacation trip. On his return he will relieve Captain Gibb in taking over the command of the Moana at Vancouver.

The Aorangi pulled out on her way to Vancouver at 1.30 a. m. to-day.

During the last week sixteen whales have been captured and taken to the station at St. Charles. Among the southbound passengers on the Ties were H. Carmichael, provincial mineralogist, and H. S. Knapp, of the Redcliffe Lumber Company.

The steamer Ties will sail again to-morrow night for Quatsino and a way ports on the West Coast of the Island.

TEES IN PORT.

Having been as far as Clayoquot, the steamer Ties, Captain Townsend, arrived in port yesterday. She had 50 passengers for this port, principally consisting of loggers from the Mosquito logging camps, who had come to the city owing to the suspension of work at the camps. The mills at Mosquito Harbor have more timber than they can handle at present.

OFFERED TO RESIGN.

J. C. Waters Tendered Resignation at Trades and Labor Council—It Was Not Accepted.

At a meeting of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council last evening, President Waters stated to the members present that owing to a charge made against him, contained in a statement made in court that day by A. Bechtel, of the Victoria Machinery Depot, to the effect that he had offered to settle the marine workers' strike if he were paid $250, he wished to resign the presidency until such time as the council had investigated the charge against him. Immediately a unanimous expression of confidence in their president's integrity was voiced among the members present at the meeting.

Upon motion, proposed and carried unanimously, Mr. Waters was requested to retain his position, and he resumed the chair. In the meantime, in accordance with the motion, the matter will be investigated and reported upon by the Boilermakers' and Boilermakers' Helpers' Unions.

The executive committee reported that the difference in dispute between Mus-ticians' and Plumbers' Unions had been satisfactorily adjusted.

Superintendent W. D. Scott, of the Dominion immigration, wrote to say that the Japanese immigration question was receiving the earnest attention of the department.

Hon. Mr. Templeman wrote on the same subject, enclosing a copy of the treaty between Great Britain and Japan. This treaty to be operative in British self-governing colonies must first be accepted by these colonies. Canada, Mr. Templeman said, had accepted the said treaty by act of parliament.

Mr. Stewart, plaintiff in the suit against the B. C. Marine Railway Company, Limited, appeared at this point—and was granted permission by the council to make a statement of the circumstances which led up to the case. His counsel, T. E.

Bird, dealing solely with its legal aspects, gave a very full account of the case. A hearty vote of thanks was then passed to Mr. Stewart and his counsel.

The secretary was instructed to notify the Boilermakers' Union and Boilermakers' Helpers' Union of the willingness of the council to co-operate with them in collecting and arranging all the facts relating to the truth of the charge made by A.
Bechtel, of the Victoria Machinery Depot, against J. C. Waters, president of the council.

Upon motion, a hearty vote of thanks was unanimously passed to W. L. Macdonald King, deputy minister of labor, and also to John Jardine, M. P. for their kindly and disinterested efforts to effect a settlement of the marine workers' strike. The secretary was instructed to convey the substance of the motion to these gentlemen under the seal of the council.

The celebration of Labor Day was next carefully considered. The secretary was instructed to communicate with Vancouver, Nanaimo, New Westminster and the other labor centres in order that the question might be settled in an intelligent and definite manner at the next meeting. A committee of five were appointed to attend to this matter under consideration, and to report at the next meeting.
Messrs. Ditchburn, Ryan, McKay, Johnson and Waters were chosen and appointed as members of this committee.
The meeting then adjourned.

LIFEBLOCK ASSOCIATION.

Annual Meeting Was Held in Seamen's Institute Last Evening.

Last evening in the Seamen's Institute
the annual meeting of the Lifeboat and Life-Saving Association was held. There was a small attendance, only half a dozen members being present. The chair was taken by the president, H. D. Helmcken, K. C.

Joseph Peirson, the secretary, read his annual report, after which the treasurer's report, showing a balance of $4.85 in the society's favor, was read and adopted.
The election of officers resulted as follows: President, H. D. Helmcken, K. C.;
vice-presidents, A. J. C. Gallely, Jas. K.
Douglas, A. J. Morley (mayor), Rev. E.
G. Miller and Paul Beyrout; treasurer, J.
J. Miller; secretary, J. O. Bailey, H. C.
Peirson; Marsh, A. D. Margison; Capt. J. P. Walter, W. H. Spurrier, E. T. Laurie, A.
Bridgman, James Maynard and H.
Harrie, auditors, F. A. Beyrout.
The meeting was adjourned to resume on the 19th inst.

At the request of the officers and men of the Fifth Regiment His Worship Mayor Morley had made arrangements to have the Esquimalt road sprinkled on Sunday morning in order that the men will not be troubled with dust during that portion of their march to camp at Macaulay's Plains.

this city as a musician of great promise, is leaving here next month for Europe. It is the intention of Miss Gilbert to proceed to the Conservatory of Music at Berlin in order to take up a course of advanced work on the violin. The course at the Conservatory opens next October. This will give Miss Gilbert and her mother, Mrs. Justin Gilbert, who accompanies her, an opportunity for high-class study in Europe
before commencing her studies at Berlin. A farewell concert is to be arranged before the departure of Miss Gilbert and all her musical friends and lovers of music are looking forward to a most enjoyable programme.

Mr. Edmund P. Kay, of Vancouver, a well known solicitor of that city,
was on Tuesday staying at the Dominion hotel, and Miss Alice Kaitenbach, of Vancouver, formerly of Streatham, London, England, was a guest at the Balmoral hotel. Yesterday morning there was a pretty wedding at the Roman Catholic cathedral, when Mr.
Edmund Kay and Miss Kaitenbach were married by His Grace the Archbishop. Mr. E. H. Turner was the best man, and Miss Therese Witt the bridesmaid. Mr. J. D. Burns gave the bride away. Among the guests were
Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Burns, Mrs. W.
Walker, and Mr. E. H. Aurner, of Vancouver. The popular resort at the Cay Corner, Port Alberni, was set apart for the wedding breakfast. The bride and bridegroom left in the afternoon for Shawnigan Lake. Mr. and Mrs.
Kay, after leaving Shawnigan and its beautiful neighborhood, intend to visit all the chief points of interest in the United States and Canada. Afterwards
they are going to England.

This height is measured from the level of the lower low water at spring tides.
This level corresponds with the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria harbor are referred, as closely as can now be ascertained.
The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 28th meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water.

There will be a meeting of the Capital Gun Club on Friday evening at attendance is requested.

Without running a doctor's bill or falling into the deep ditch of quackery, may safely, speedily and economically cure himself without the knowledge of a second party. By the introduction of THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY THERAPION.

A complete revolution has been wrought in this department of medical science, whilst thousands have been restored to health and happiness who years previously had been merely dragging out a miserable existence.

THERAPION No. 2 - A Sovereign Remedy for primary and secondary skin eruptions, ulcerations, pains and swellings of the joints, and all those complaints which mercury and arsenic are popularly but erroneously supposed to cure. THERAPION is sold by principal Chemists throughout the world. Price in England 2/6 & 4/6. In ordering, state which of the three remedies required, and observe that the word "THERAPION" appears on British Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every package by order of His Majesty's Home Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

WEEKLY WEATHER SYNOPSIS.

Victoria Meteorological Office,
20th May to 4th June, 1907.

With the exception of the last day of the week the weather has been fine and warm throughout Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland, while over Northern British Columbia and in the Atlin district rain was reported on four and five days respectively. These conditions were caused by the barometric pressure remaining comparatively high in this vicinity, while a series of low barometer areas from the Pacific spread inland both to the northward and southward of this. No high winds have occurred, except upon the 4th, when one of these ocean disturbances passed over Vancouver Island and caused a strong westerly wind on the Straits of Fuca and Georgia, and a light rainfall on the Lower Mainland, where thunderstorms were also reported.
At Dawson during this week the average daily highest temperature was 70, which was exceeded on six days, the lowest temperature being 40. The average daily temperature (24) was only 5 degrees lower than the average here. The weather in the Pacific provinces was for the most part uneventful, with showers and thunderstorms upon several days. Light frosts occurred upon the first few days and only in Northern Alberta and Saskatchewan.
Victoria - Total amount of bright sunshine was 53 hours and 48 minutes; trace of rain; highest temperature, 76.7 on 20th; and lowest, 43.4 on 2nd.
Kamloops - Rain, 11; highest temperature, 75.0 on 20th; lowest, 40 on 2nd.
New Westminster - Rain, 31 and thunderstorm; highest temperature, 80.0 on 20th; lowest, 40 on 2nd.
Vancouver - Rain, 21; highest temperature, 84 on 21st; lowest, 50 on 2nd.
Barkerville - Rain, 18; highest temperature, 66 on 20th; lowest, 34 on 1st.
Post-Rain, 14; highest temperature, 75 on 20th; lowest, 32 on 2nd.
Dawson - Rain, 62 inches; highest temperature, 75 on 30th and 4th; lowest, 24 on 1st.

Owing to the recent gambling revelations, six officers who were attending to the military riding institute at Hemes have been sent back to their regiments. A number of officers have been ordered to their rooms under arrest, and all the others attending the institute, which is the most famous riding academy of the Empire, have been forbidden to go to the best known hotels.

THE TURF

How ORBY WON.
Further details which have come to hand show that Richard Croker's Orby won the Blue Ribbon of the English Turf with comparative ease. The tough-limbed Silve Gallion, which started a red-hot favorite in the race, could only finish third.
The small field of nine entered down to the post, and the starter had little difficulty in getting them into line. A good start was effected, and the first to show in advance was John Bull, closely followed by Silve Gallion, Bensonian, Galvani and Orby, with All Black last. When five furlongs had been covered in this fashion Silve Gallion took up the running. Coming up the hill Orby and Bensonian challenged the favorite. At this time Johnny Reff was riding Orby in irreproachable style. Little by little he took his mount to the front until he had established a clear lead. Coming up the straight Woolwinder made a determined challenge, but could make little impression on the leader who swept past the judge's box a clever winner by two lengths. Half a length separated Woolwinder from Silve Gallion, who was third.
The Irish and Americans present at the race gave the winner a tremendous ovation, and the great burst of the crowd, if not so enthusiastic, hailed the victor in the "Blue Ribbon" event in the usual sportsmanlike fashion. Mr. Croker, usually a reserved man, was unable to hide his excitement. As he led his horse in he had to run the gauntlet of salutes of cheering, and repeated cries of "Old Ireland Forever."
Lord Rosebery's Bensonian, ridden by Danny Maher, was fourth.

GOLE

CHAMPIONSHIP CONTEST.
By three up and one to play, J. A. Rithet in a very interesting game, defeated C. J. Prior in the first round of the match yesterday, and reached the final round for the men's open championship of British Columbia and the Rostock Cup. The game in the second round, between Jones and C. H. Cookston, was won by the former by two-up and one to play.

SATURDAY'S MATCH.
On Saturday afternoon there will be a match on the Oak Bay grounds, when the two local cricket clubs will meet for the first time this season. Both the Victoria and the Oak Bay clubs are practicing hard, and there is every promise of a fine exhibition. Great interest is being displayed among local cricketers in the outcome of the match, and there is much speculation as to the result.

FIREWARDENS' MEETING

Questions to be Discussed at This Evening's Gathering.
The firewardens will hold a meeting to-night at which they will discuss the matter of enforcing in all its details the by-law regulating fire-proofing within the fire limits. Since the market has been flooded with various materials claimed by the manufacturers to be entirely immune from fire, many people have applied to the city authorities for permission to use such material in place of the materials defined by the by-law. It is urged by several of these applicants that the fireproof roofings and similar substances are much better, as well as much cheaper, than the brick and other materials required by the regulations, and they claim that it is an injustice to deny the use of patent goods without an investigation of their qualities. To-night the wardens will give the matter a thorough consideration. If they decide that these claims are justifiable in any way it will be necessary to pass a new by-law before fire-proofing can be introduced in place of brick, stone and slate in buildings within the fire limits.
Another matter that the wardens will discuss is the appointing of two men to fill vacancies in the fire brigade. Although the civic authorities have granted more pay and uniform to the men, several members of the fire-fighting force have resigned in order to follow more lucrative occupations.

ATHLETICS AT JAMESTOWN.

Athletics are to be one of the principal features of the Jamestown exposition, which is being held on and near the waters of Hampton Roads, Va. The programme includes the national track and field, swimming and water polo, all-around and basketball championships of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, all of which are open to amateurs of the world, and the Jamestown College championship, open to all colleges of the world.

The South Atlantic Association of the Amateur Athletic Union will hold its track and field, swimming, basketball and wrestling championships in connection with the exposition, and arrangements have been made for the holding of a dual meet between the South Atlantic and the Southern associations. One week will be devoted to military athletics, open to the National Guard and regular army and foreign visiting armies. In addition to the regular track and field events, it is proposed to give mounted military events, such as broadsword, polo, high jumping, hurdle races and drills. Rules of the Amateur Athletic Union and the drill regulations of the United States army will govern the contests. Arrangements are being made for a national public schools championship to extend several days, and on July 13th the Southern interscholastic championships will be held. Baseball, football and many other games will be held at the exposition. The schedule is being continually added to. The running track and athletic field, which have been constructed under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union, are complete in every detail and have been constructed according to plans drawn up by the best athletic authorities in the East. The cinder-path is a quarter mile affair, with a 250 straightaway. The military athletic carnival and the Jamestown College championship will occupy the month of June, and on July 4th the all-around championship of the Amateur Athletic Union will be held. This is open to the athletes of the world.

The annual track and field championships of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, consisting of the junior and senior classes, will take place on September 6th and 7th. The junior class is open to all registered amateurs who have not won a first prize at an Amateur Athletic Union track and field, Canadian cross-country or inter-collegiate championship, or championship of any foreign country. The winner of any event in the junior class is ineligible for further competition in this class. A gold medal, emblematic of the junior championship of the United States will be given to the winner of such first place and silver and bronze medals to second and third place contestants. A handsome banner will be awarded to the team of college, club or other athletic organization scoring the greatest number of points.

TO MEET SHRUBB

John Marsh, the Winnipeg long distance runner, expresses a desire to make a match with Alfred Shrubb. He thinks conditions could be mutually agreed upon. Marsh has already met Shrubb several times, they being figures in the same races in England. The two men are of about the same age and when in condition practically the same weight. If one or a series of matches could be arranged they would doubtless be of great interest to the public. Marsh would also like to meet Tom Longboat, the Indian runner, in a match race, preferring it to be an open event.

YACHTING FOR LIPTON CUP.

The revival of the old question, shall professionals be permitted to serve on crews entered in the race for the Lipton cup, to be held next August under the auspices of the Columbia Yacht club, has brought out a new phase which will seriously hamper the classic unless an amicable agreement can be reached before the time limit on entries expires.

Commodore Fred A. Price, of the Chicago Athletic Association fleet, voiced the sentiment of other yachtsmen of the lower lakes club, at the monthly meeting of the Columbia Club when he declared that unless contesting crews from the clubs in Detroit, Cleveland and Thyagar Bay be allowed the service of one professional, there is a dismal outlook for entries from these cities.

The professional tar who will thus be added to each crew will be denied the right of steering the craft upon which he is sailing, but in other branches of the marine duties, he may lend his efforts, says Commodore

WRESTLING

JOHNSON V. DELIVUK.
Ralph Johnson, the Coal City mat artist, and Delivuk, the heavy-weight wrestler, who is known throughout America, will meet at Nanaimo on June 22nd. Delivuk offers to throw Johnson three times in 30 minutes of actual wrestling. Police Gazette rules to govern. If Johnson throws him during that time he wins the match. Delivuk will weigh in at 335 pounds, but would rather weigh in at 320 or 350 pounds, if the local man will concede that weight.

HOW WOMEN WINK

Why Do More Use the Left Eye Than the Right?

Sir James Crichton-Browne, in the course of a lecture at the Royal Institution, London, said that some time ago he issued a number of circulars, one of the questions in which was whether the recipients were left-handed, right-handed or ambidextrous.

Out of 507 replies received 24 per cent. were left-handed.

Another question on the circular was: "Do you wink with the left eye or with the right?"

The majority winked with the left eye; and a number of ladies who responded to the appeal were equally divided as to the use of the right and left eye. Rather more than 20 per cent. claimed to be ambidextrous in the use of both eyes; and 9.15 declared they could not wink at all.

SEEKING A HOME.

Arrival From Old Land Wants to Remain on Vancouver Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Myers and family who are staying at the Dominion hotel after an experience of two winters in the East, decided to come West and see what British Columbia was like. Mr. Myers is an Old Country man, hailing from Lancaster and Westmoreland. For the present he has taken a house in Victoria, and intends to commence residence in it as soon as he can get it fixed up for himself and family.

He is of the opinion that Vancouver Island fulfills all those conditions which are so dear to the heart of every Englishman—accustomed to open air life, work and sport. His intention is to take his time in looking around before finally deciding upon land where he may carry on mixed farming and at the same time enjoy the society of pleasant neighbors, together with fishing and hunting.

He is a keen all-round sportsman, and from what he has heard from friends and acquaintances he is confident that he will be able in a short period of time to find the exact location for his future and permanent home.

PREPARATIONS FOR FAIR.

Progress Is Being Made for the Exhibition This Fall.

The plans for the new entrance gate and judge's stand at the exhibition grounds have been completed. The gate will be sixty feet in length and will be equipped with six ticket offices and four turnstiles. It is not known at present whether the work will be done by tender or day work. The judge's stand, which will have an auxiliary stand for the press, will be serviceable and handsome structure, suitable to the needs of the course.

Secretary Smart, of the B. C. Agricultural Association, is intent on rushing the erection of these improvements and the work will be started within a few days' time. All preparations for the fall fair have reached an advanced stage. The prize list will be issued in less than a week and a feature of it will be the large number of additional prizes provided by the insertion of third-places in all stock divisions. Three carloads of stock have been promised for the fair, two of them imported stock. One of the latter will be entered by a man from Calgary and the other by an Ontario owner.

Another feature which has been especially designed to stimulate greater interest than ever in the fair is the addition of one extra day to the racing. Not only will there be four days of racing, but purses to the value of $4,000 besides many valuable cups and other trophies have been offered as prizes for the return of Dr. Toimie from the mainland.

VISITING BISHOP.

He Has Left for Vancouver to Attend Church Gathering.

The Rt. Rev. the Bishop of Oregon, and Mrs. Scadding, who have been staying at the Driard have left for Vancouver. The bishop has been asked to deliver a special lecture before the International Clerical Society in Vancouver this evening at the request of the Bishop of British Columbia. His Lordship has recently returned from the Old Country, where he has been busily engaged delivering his lecture to the clerical members of the Anglican church in Great Britain. While in London, England, and the provinces, the bishop was lecturing five days a week. The clergy who are to listen to the address this evening are assembling from all parts north and south, east and west. It is really as its name implies, "international" in its membership and its work, so far as the Anglican church is concerned. The subject of the lecture this evening is "The American Church and Her Missionary Work." The object of the lecture is to create an interest in, and to show the connection of, the American church with the Universal system of the Anglican church. In other words, to show that the American church, the Canadian church and the Established Church of England are, and have always been, one and the same.

The reason for the bishop choosing his present thesis and for lecturing so assiduously on this one point, is to be explained by the fact that this year is the three hundredth anniversary of his branch of the Anglican church. This year celebrates the period in the history of his church when the first English clergyman, landing at Jamestown, in Virginia, three hundred years ago, then commenced to hold the services of the Anglican church on this side of the Atlantic.

The bishop, himself, although he has worked for the last thirty years in the United States and been elected by the Anglican church to be their bishop, as bishop of Portland, Oregon, is by birth and training a Canadian.

TERROR TO CHAUFFEURS.

Dr. Rosenberg admitted in court in Berlin that in a single year he had given evidence against 3,000 chauffeurs who drove like John, the son of Nimrod. It was a habit of his to lie in ambush on the high roads leading to Berlin, but he has given it up in favor of a deputy-assistant stationmaster in the Rhine provinces.

BURNS THE JUDGE'S POCKET.

A plaintiff in the Southwark County court last week complained that money was very difficult to get and even more difficult to hold. "Yes," said Judge Evers, "money does slip away. I know that to my cost. Whenever I have any money in my pocket it very soon goes."

ADVERTISING MEN.

The Next Convention to Be Held in Sacramento.

The annual convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association, which was held in this city last year, brought that body into local prominence. Quite a few members reside in Victoria.

The next meeting of the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's Association will be held in Sacramento, word to that effect having been received by Rinaldo M. Hall, president of the association, and plans have been put on foot to send a big delegation from the Pacific Northwest to the meeting. A special Pullman car will be chartered and the advertising men from Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia will assemble in Portland for the trip.

The association has a large number of members in the Pacific Northwest, many of them never having been in California, and for this reason a large delegation will go from this section. Sacramento is making big preparations for the association meeting, and the July meeting will be the largest and best yet held. A programme of rare talent will be carried out, one of the big drawing cards being Conde Nast, business manager of Colliers. Mr. Nast has written President Hall that he will bend every effort to be present and make an address before the association.

In addition to the entertainment at Sacramento, a side trip will be made to San Francisco and Oakland. There is also some talk of making the return trip to Portland by steamer.

A gardener described himself at the Marylebone court as "a professor of botanical science."

BURGLAR'S NOVEL DEFENCE.

A man who was charged with carrying housebreaking implements by night urged in a London police court that the fact that he threw away a jemmy was proof that he was not "found in possession" of it. The magistrate told him to argue that point at the sessions.

"A' WHEEL"

"A' weel!" "A' weel!" the Scotchman cried,
"A' weel!" the echo quick replied,
From hillside awa' dune the hollow
"A' wheel! a wheel!" the maiden sighed.
Jump on your wheel! the youth replied,
And we will quickly follow.

Far from the city's dusty streets;
Where dust with dust forever meets,
Far from their ruts and shaking,
Where in the country we will find
Roads such as those (at least in mind,) The Mayor is busy making!

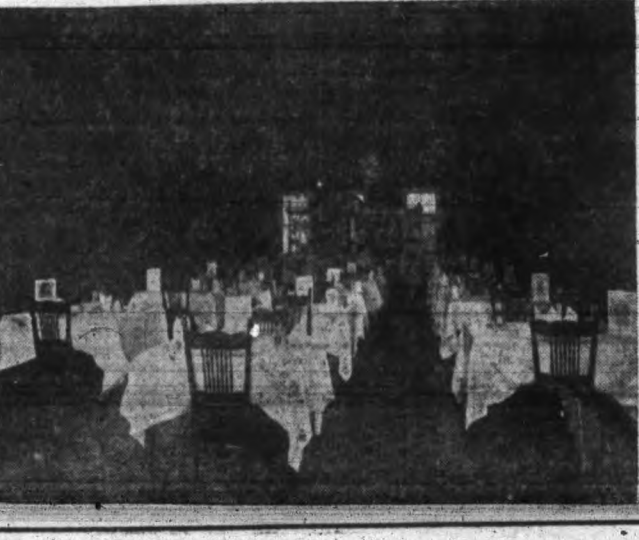

The "NEW HUDSON" is the wheel for me.
The RACYCLE it's mate shall be,
And both shall run together,
And so the legend, says the pair
Agreed like Aldermen and Mayor,
On all things but the weather."

House & Kitchen Furnishings

Everything for the Home Complete at Special Sale and Introduction Prices, Commencing To-morrow

WE open to-morrow the ground floor of the new annexe to the store on Broad Street. This extensive floor space is devoted exclusively to the "Busy Basement" and the Stove and Range Departments.

House and kitchen furnishings have formed so valuable and popular a feature in the store that it has proved impossible to cope with an ever increasing volume of business in so restricted an area, consequently the "Busy Basement" ascends to a space where proper justice can be done to so popular a department.

In a removal of a stock so vast, with the daily augmentation of huge new stocks, we find an excellent opportunity of offering special sale goods that will very forcibly demonstrate what the department can do in its new home.

Merchandise in immense quantities has been specially purchased at valuable price concessions from the manufacturers. We will therefore offer these, commencing with to-morrow at very tempting sale prices.

Entrance to the house and kitchen furnishings and stove departments can be obtained through the shoe department in addition to the new entrance on Broad Street.

WORK AMONG YOUNG WOMEN COMFORTABLE HOME IN LOCAL Y. W. C. A.

Some Branches Which Are Taken Up
by the Society and Made Successful.

The Y. W. C. A. have got well established in their bright and airy new quarters on Fort street, just below the C. P. R. ticket office. There is a comfortable dining room, and a pretty well-furnished reading room with the nucleus of a good library—which promises soon through the thoughtfulness of the inhabitants of this city, to be of great usefulness to the members of the association. The reading room has the daily papers and contributions of well-known periodicals are beginning to be sent to the rooms.

It is only three months ago that this branch of the association has been open. The number of members is now 200 and this promises a bright future in store for the association. Among this number it is interesting to note that there are a fair proportion of newcomers to Victoria, caused by the reports of friends who are already settled in the most popular city of the West.

The associate and active members of the society contribute $1. a year as membership fee, while the sustaining members contribute fifty cents a month. At the present time there are forty-eight sustaining members, and the number is being increased from week to week. In addition to these the Y. W. C. A. have other regular members contributing sums more or less in amount in proportion to the calls made upon their generosity in other quarters of the city.

The business men of the city are contributing liberally to the society. Twenty-five dollars has recently been received from one gentleman and others are equally generous.

Business firms like Weiler Brothers have contributed to the furnishing of the rooms in a very generous and praiseworthy manner.

The committee include the names of some of the most esteemed inhabitants of Victoria.

There is always a very busy time at the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. during the lunch and tea hours of the day. Regularly 50 or 60 members come every day. Some bring their own lunch, and these are provided with tea by the society. In this manner at the least possible expense to themselves in comfort they are able to have their meals brought to them from their own homes.

Do You Like Honest, Square Dealing?

Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines are put out under the belief that publicity is the best possible guaranty of merit, and that the most intelligent people generally want to know what they take into their stomachs, whether it be as food, drink or medicine. Although it was a bold step to take, and quite out of the usual practice of makers of proprietary medicines, yet Dr. Pierce, some time ago, decided to publish broadcast and on all his bottle-wrappers all the ingredients entering into the composition, or make-up, of his celebrated family medicines. A square deal is therefore assured every one using his medicines, for one knows exactly what he or she is paying for when purchasing them, since every ingredient is published in plain English on the bottle-wrappers and the correctness of the same attested under solemn oath. These several ingredients are selected from among the very best known to medical science for the cure of the various diseases for which these medicines are recommended.

The most eminent and leading medical teachers and writers of all the several schools of practice have endorsed each of the ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines in the strongest possible terms. The makers of Dr. Pierce's medicines believe that intelligent people do not wish to open their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulp down whatever is presented to them, either in the way of food, drink or medicine, without knowing something of the properties and harmless character of the agents employed. They believe that health is too sacred a heritage to be experimented with, and that people should not take medicines of the composition of which they are kept in ignorance. Dr. Pierce's medicines are made wholly from the roots of plants found growing in the depths of our American forests. They are so compounded that they cannot do harm in any case, even to the most delicate woman or child. By open publicity Dr. Pierce has taken his medicines out of the list of secret formulas, of doubtful merit, and made them REMEDIES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. They are therefore, in a class all by themselves, being absolutely and in every sense non-secret.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

There is a badge of honesty on every bottle of Dr. Pierce's medicines in the full list of its ingredients duly attested as correct under solemn oath.

No other medicines put up for general use through drug stores can make claim to any such distinction, and no other than Dr. Pierce's medicines have any such professional endorsement of their ingredients. Such professional endorsement should have far more weight with the afflicted than any amount of lay, or non-professional, endorsement, or testimonials.

Of course, the exact proportion of each ingredient used in Dr. Pierce's medicines as well as the working formula or manner of preparing the same, and the specially devised apparatus and appliances employed in their manufacture, are withheld from publicity that Dr. Pierce's proprietary rights may be fully protected from any unprincipled imitators who might be piratically inclined.

The preparation of these medicines without the use of a drop of alcohol, so Entertainments are provided for the members once a month. The social evenings of the Y. W. C. A. are much appreciated by the girls and are a great success. Plenty of friends are always willing to come forward and give their services and their musical and other gifts for the enjoyment of others. The Y. W. C. A. feel that however good these gatherings may be and undoubtedly are, during the greater part of the year, there is a time when they ought to take another form. That moreover the body should be provided for as well as the mind to perfect any system of recreation. The committee and members of the association are at present somewhat anxiously considering whether the ways and means will open out for them to provide boating, swimming, and other clubs for the members, especially during the summer months. In addition they are anxious to procure the services of some well-known instructor in athletics and physical culture, and in this and other ways to perfect the physical as well as the moral gifts of the members of the association. During the coming months it is expected that many enjoyable picnics will be arranged for the members and friends of the association.

Another department of the Y. W. C. A. promises to be a great success. The employment agency seems to be fulfilling a long-felt want. Although there are many applicants from the householders of the city. The demand for female help is greater than the supply. As the energetic secretary says, "We cannot at present fill the vacant places." Demand for white labor is increasing so rapidly in Victoria—it is becoming more and more preferred to Chinese labor for domestic purposes. It is perhaps partly due to the fact that our own race are more easily understood and managed. Again it is felt that a home fortunate enough to be able to secure white labor has a feeling of greater refinement and comfort and general homeliness about it than one in which white labor is wanting. So satisfactory have all the girls recommended by the Y. W. C. A. turned out to be that the number of their patrons is rapidly increasing. Another change in the situation of domestic labor is due to the fact that although the association has been able to provide girls from the Old Country in some cases, yet in others the Canadian girls are themselves coming forward to offer themselves as helps. This number is increasing. The girls take to the work and induce others to go into service in preference to the long and weary hours which all store work entails.

Next Wednesday the members are looking forward to their next entertainment, which promises to be even better than the previous ones have been. To say this means that the success of the meeting and the enjoyment of the members is a foregone conclusion.

The following is the list of names of the president, vice-presidents and directors of the association:

President, Mrs. Forman; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Gleason; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Sowerford; 4th vice-president, Mrs. T. Toller; 4th vice-president, Mrs. Elliott; Directors, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Niven, Mrs. McKilligan, Mrs. Toller, Mrs. Berkley.

There is always a very busy time at the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. during the lunch and tea hours of the day. Regularly 50 or 60 members come every day. Some bring their own lunch, and these are provided with tea by the society. In this manner at the least possible expense to themselves in comfort they are able to have their meals brought to them from their own homes.

generally employed and yet so harmful, in the long run, to most invalids when its use is long continued, even in small doses, cost Dr. Pierce several years of careful study and labor, with the aid of skilled pharmacists and chemists to assist him. Naturally, he does not care to give away his scientific and exact processes for preparing these medicines, but he does want to deal in the most open manner with all his patrons and patients, and under this frank, open and honest way of dealing, they may know exactly what they are taking when using his medicines.

What Do They Cure? This question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription."

The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator and acts especially favorably in a curative and healing way upon all the mucous lining surfaces as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder, curing a large percent of catarrhal cases whether the disease affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchitis, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous diarrhoea), bladder, uterus, or other pelvic organs. Even in the chronic or degenerative stages of these affections, it is often successful in effecting cures.

The "Favorite Prescription" is advised for the cure of one class of diseases only—those peculiar weaknesses, derangements and irregularities incident to women. It is a powerful yet gently acting, invigorating, tonic, and strengthening nerve. For weak, worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and bringing about a healthy, vigorous condition of the whole system.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Doctor Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and is held as strictly confidential. COLLECT DAMAGES FROM UNION

TORONTO COMPANY
APPOINTED RECEIVER

Agricultural Situation in Saskatchewan—Scarcity of Farm Laborers—News Notes.

Toronto, June 5.—An order was made this morning by Chief Justice Falconbridge which allows the Metallic Roofing Company of Canada to collect damages from local union No. 30 of the Sheet and Metal Workers, through virtue of the appointment of the company as receiver. The order is of unusual interest to labor organizations throughout the Dominion because of its form. It appoints the plaintiffs receivers without security or salary until June 30th, when a motion will be made to extend it to the amount of the company's claim for all moneys, tolls or fees which are payable or may hereafter become payable to local union No. 30, or the officers, agents or members who may act on behalf of the union.

Sudden Death.
Toronto, June 5.—James Mountford, aged 50, a prominent financial man of London, England, fell dead without a moment's warning on the steps of the parliament buildings this morning while on his way to interview the minister of mines. He was with Claude Macdonald, M. P., and Col. J. Carson, of Montreal. Heart disease was the cause of death.

Assistant to Bishop.
Toronto, June 5.—It is stated that Bishop Reeve, of Mackenzie river and Athabasca, will resign his bishopric and come to Toronto to act as assistant to Archbishop Sweatham, Primate of all Canada. The important question of the election of a coadjutor bishop, with the right of succession, thus will remain to be settled. Bishop Reeve was born in 1856 and was for many years missionary in his present location from 1889 to 1893. After being for many years Archdeacon of Chippewyan, he was consecrated Bishop of Mackenzie river in 1891.

New Buildings.
Ottawa, June 5.—Building possibilities in Ottawa this present summer do not seem to have been much affected by late troubles during the month of May. Building permits to the amount of $175,000 were taken out between May 1st and this morning, the size of the figures showing both the growth of the city and the continued development.

Bright Outlook.
Regina, Sask., June 5.—P. Ketchen, Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture, on the general situation in the province, said there were many favorable factors to offset the losses of spring. Not for some years had the seed gone into the ground in better shape, there being a larger amount of moisture in the ground than in former years. The soil was mellow, and formed a first rate seed bed. Since May 24th the weather in most parts of the province had been just what was wanted. Last year, with the early spring, the ground became very dry before the June rains came on. With regard to the quantity of wheat sown, the deputy commissioner thought that there was quite as much seed in the ground as in former years, if not more, though the normal increase in the wheat acreage which he had legitimately looked for had not been maintained. On the other hand, there had been quite an abnormal increase in the seeding of coarse grains. The involuntarily holding over of large quantities of grain had undoubtedly caused inconvenience and embarrassment to many farmers of the province, yet compensation had come in the shape of largely enhanced prices. It was also clear that the farmers were going to realize high prices for their growing crop, seeing that October wheat was selling for 95c a bushel. Unfortunately there was little prospect of the labor stringency being relieved this year, owing to the large number of men requisitioned for construction work. However, the farmers, with their better financial position, would be able to pay more for labor if necessary.

Grain Conference.
Winnipeg, June 5.—A split occurred in the grain conference this afternoon. A resolution to this effect that all by-laws of the Grain Exchange should be submitted for the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, was proposed, and the delegates from the draw from the conference if it were passed. A vote was then taken on the resolution, which carried by a considerable majority. The Grain Exchange delegates then withdrew.

Will Sell Cattle.
Winnipeg, June 5.—The New Waldron Ranch Company, of Southern Alberta, have decided to sell out their immense herd of cattle on account of the rush of settlers into the country, and curtailment of the range. They have upwards of 10,000 head of cattle, and own 40,000 acres of land. This is the last of the oldest ranches in the west. The Cochrane ranch a short time ago was sold out because of the same conditions.

Excise Duties.
Winnipeg, June 5.—The collection of excise duties for the month of May in the inland revenue division of Winnipeg amounted to $106,710; for May, 1906, it was $105,100.

Under Arrest.
Swan River, Man., June 5.—Mr. Macdonald, secretary-treasurer of the municipality, has been arrested on a charge of shortage of accounts. A shortage was discovered some time ago to the extent of $2,700, but this was made up by securities on the property of the offender and relatives. Recently, however, it was discovered that $1,750 was still missing and when Government Inspector Murray, from Winnipeg, went out to make an examination, Macdonald was placed under arrest.

Congregational Union.
Hamilton, June 5.—The annual convention of the Congregational Union of Canada met here this morning with about 100 delegates in attendance. Rev. J. Gunn, Toronto, president of the union, was in the chair and conducted the opening exercises. The business of this morning's session was largely of a preliminary nature. Rev. Jno. Eamias, M. A., London, Eng., was present as a fraternal delegate from the union of England and Wales and delivered a speech. The convention will last for six days.

RAIN NEEDED FOR BERRY CROPS

HORTICULTURISTS
ARE VERY ANXIOUS

Strawberry Production Will Be Cut
Short Unless Wet Weather
Comes at Once

There is need of rain in this district in order to bring the strawberry crop to perfection. R. M. Palmer says that if the rain was to come now the production of strawberries would be 50 per cent. higher than if this dry weather continues.

The outlook is that the strawberry season will be very short unless rain comes at once.

In other lines of fruit the outlook is good. It is expected that cherries and pears will be plentiful, while apples, plums, etc., will be an average crop.

The outlook for Logan berries is good also, but the prospects would be improved in all lines of small fruits if rain were to come soon.

A Fruit Farm.
Vancouver Island as a place for fruit farming continues to grow in importance. From week to week new orchards are being planted and preparations made for the future.

S. T. Sutton of Nanaimo, has purchased a farm from Mr. Lacey, at Nanaimo Bay, situated about nine miles from Nanaimo. The place contains in all 85½ acres with twelve acres cleared, and house and barn.

It is Mr. Sutton's intention to start a fruit farm. The place now has 115 apple trees and next fall it is his intention to plant 2,000 more trees. The place is being measured off preparatory to placing the order for the trees.

Short of Pickers.
There are complaints that there is a shortage of labor in picking the berry crops on the Hood River centre, Oregon. Hood River may lose part of its high-priced berry crop if it does not soon obtain pickers to gather it. Already some patches have had to be abandoned temporarily on account of the shortage of help. With berries selling at $4 a crate this will mean a big loss to strawberry growers if it should continue. Never in the history of the business has help been so scarce as it is now and the returns so great.

Other districts are suffering from want of help as well as Hood River, and more than 1,000 men, women and children can be placed to work if they are secured, it is reported. At the offices of the fruit shipping concerns telegrams are pouring in clamoring for berries, and growers are sending notices in all directions trying to secure pickers. The saving of the crop has reached a serious stage and unless pickers soon hurry to the rescue, considerable loss will be sustained.

Local Markets.
Fresh pineapples are now on the local markets and are selling at 50c. each as well as nut-meg melons, which are selling at 20 and 25 cents apiece. Strawberries are plentiful at present, but owing to the continued hot weather, combined with the great lack of rain, they are being dried up before given a chance to ripen, so that the berry season will consequently be very short. Old potatoes are practically over, those still on the market being worth 12 to 15c a sack, and the California new potatoes are still high also. Creamery butter has lowered to 25c, however, and cucumbers are now selling for 15c. each. California cherries are plentiful at 25c. per lb., but fancy naval oranges are practically over and only seedling oranges are left on the market.

RAILWAY PROGRESS IN CANADA

By J. L. Payne, Department of Railways in Canada.

The commercial and industrial development of Canada has had a natural counterpart in the expansion of the transportation interest of the country. In a fitful way this enlargement of trade had proceeded during the years between 1877 and 1897, the basis being laid meanwhile for a wider national life; but it was in the latter year that a new era of prosperity dawned upon the Dominion—an era to which no man is now prepared to fix limitations. It has not at any time exhibited the undesirable character of a "boom," but has been marked by steady advancement, under conditions having their foundation in the solid and permanent resources of the country. To meet this progressive movement, to even make it possible, it has been necessary to lay down many miles of new railway track, to add largely to the equipment and to organize the means for handling a rapidly swelling traffic.

This has not been an easy task, and it should not be surprising that its absolute accomplishment has been impracticable. Fresh needs have arisen more rapidly than tracks could be laid down or locomotives and cars constructed. Congestion has been the result, and to-day one of the serious problems to which the railway commissioners, as well as manufacturers and contractors, are addressing their best energies is the providing of adequate facilities for the carrying requirements of the whole country. Incidentally, the scarcity of labor bulks large as a hindrance, and this may become a far graver matter than it now appears to be. But, putting these considerations aside, it is instructive to note the growth of Canadian railways during five-year periods since 1875. The record is as follows:

Year.	Miles in Operation
1875	2,499
1880	5,782
1885	8,607
1890	12,184
1895	14,564
1900	16,559
1905	19,714
1906	21,353

This increase of 67 per cent. in miles of railway must be regarded as highly satisfactory. The providing of equipment required for the operation of this larger mileage has been proportionate, although it still falls far short of the demand. Not only have many more locomotives and cars been brought into use, but these have been of much greater capacity. Whereas a train-load of 250 tons would be about the maximum in 1875, loads of 1,500 and 2,000 tons are now quite common. It is the disposition of all railway managers in these days to increase the train-load to the utmost possible weight, and to make this practicable much money is being spent in reducing grades, eliminating curves, and strengthening the roadbed. Millions are also being laid out in double-tracking busy sections, and in the improvement of terminal facilities. The carrying power of all the principal railways has been taxed to such a degree during recent years as to compel the adoption of a policy looking practically to the reconstruction and re-equipment of these lines.

The volume of traffic has grown with relatively greater rapidity than has the mileage. In 1875 the number of passengers carried was 5,190,416. This had swollen to 9,982,358 in 1884, to 14,462,486 in 1904, and to 27,989,782 in 1906, a betterment of 922 per cent. This increased business brought the earnings up from $19,470,549 in 1875 to $125,322,865 in 1906. In this connection it is important to notice that while the earnings per ton declined, the income per train mile increased—indicating lower rates on one hand and economical administration on the other. This result is in keeping with the methods of all the best railway management—the world over, by which the earnings per train mile are steadily bettered. It is also satisfactory to know that while the operating expenses absorbed 81.1 per cent. of the total income of Canadian railways in 1875, this figure had been reduced to 68.1 in 1906.

Up to June 30 last $1,322,498,704 had been invested in the railways of Canada, of which large sum the Dominion government had contributed $194,188,584, the governments of the various provinces $43,278,022, and the municipalities of the country $17,125,164. To these subventions might be added $88,000,000 as the cost of the Intercolonial and $8,000,000 as the cost of the former-owned and Northern Ontario, Temiscaming and Northern Ontario, Federal government and the latter by the provincial government of Ontario. The policy of aiding railway construction in Canada has not yet been discontinued; but it may be safely assumed that the time is near at hand when direct assistance in that form will cease.

So much for history. Or perhaps greater importance is the outlook for the future. Long strides have been taken during the past thirty years; but within the next decade the record of railway development will inevitably advance to a new basis. Far-reaching plans have already assumed shape, and large undertakings are actually being carried out. The building of the Canadian Pacific was properly regarded as a national triumph; but before ten years have gone by it is reasonably certain that three-trans-continental lines will be in operation. The Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern, each aiming to span the continent, are in process of construction. At this moment more than six thousand miles of new railway line are under contract, and many additional thousands are definitely projected. For the most part these enterprises have reference to the opening up of the great West; but the older provinces are also adding largely to their transportation facilities. It is not a mere demonstration of optimism to say that the railway mileage of Canada will be more than doubled before 1917 is reached. At the present rate of expansion and commercial progress, this must be viewed as a moderate estimate. And Canada undoubtedly has the strength, the disposition, and the courage to thus exploit her great heritage.

Collateral to the construction of new railway lines is the industrial aspect. Primarily the call for unskilled labor comes with great urgency. Men are wanted in battalions to do the rough work of building, and special agencies have been established to meet this demand. This need does not, however, bear the character of permanency. The citizens of Canada are more deeply concerned in the enterprises which have their foundation in the carrying trade, and which promote the community life of the land. Just how many men are directly employed by the existing railways will not be known until the data have been gathered during the current year; but the number is large. The Canadian Pacific, with upwards of 8,000 miles of line, has over 55,000 names on its payroll. The multiplication of lines and the extension of present main lines, will undoubtedly swell the army of employees very largely. But in the contingent industries to which the railway must look for supplies of rails, cars, locomotives, and the thousand odd articles they require, rests a larger interest. "Canada," thinks Australia, does not view an incoming settler so much as a competitor in the labor market as a consumer and producer; and he is the more welcome if he brings with him a certain measure of skill for disposal. To see immense manufacturing spring up and flourish is the hope of the Canadian people.

CANADIAN GIRLS AND ZAM-BUK.

Girls who are fond of canoeing, tennis, rowing, golf, and other outdoor sports find Zam-Buk invaluable, as well as do their male friends, who are engaged in the same sports, and baseball, etc. A smarting, blistered hand from rough paddle is at once relieved by "Zam-Buk." A bruise, a "sun-burn," the pain from insect stings, a sore foot caused by a chafing shoe, a burn at a picnic fire—for all these Zam-Buk is a quick cure.

Don't think because Zam-Buk is prescribed by doctors and used for the most serious skin diseases and injuries that it is only useful in serious cases. What cures a serious skin injury can soon cure a less serious one. Mothers will find Zam-Buk useful for the heat rashes and skin troubles to which young children are subject in the hot weather. Remember always that Zam-Buk is made from pure herb-essences, contains no mineral coloring matter, and is this best for the tender skins of infants. All stores and druggists sell at 50c a box, or post-free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price, 6 boxes for $2.50.

PROSPECTOR'S SUICIDE.

Ymir, June 5.—At Waneta, William Dean, an old-time prospector, of that vicinity, jumped into the Columbia river back of the Port Sheppard hotel and was drowned. He was a number of others, had been drinking for several days at the Port Sheppard hotel, and a number were with him when the act was committed. Dean was seen to come up and swim strongly against the current, but soon gave up and sank. The body has not been found.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLAR FINE.

Jap Convicted of Illicit Manufacture of Whiskey.

Vancouver, June 5.—Okiva, the Japanese convicted for the illicit manufacture of whiskey on a small island in the Fraser river, paid a fine of $500. His defence was that he was manufacturing sake to preserve fish for export to Japan.

ENGLAND THROUGH JAPANESE EYES

"The Unwritten Laws"

By K. Sugimura, Special Correspondent of the Tokio Asahi, in the London Mail.

I arrived in London two weeks ago, on my first European trip, and for me this has been a time of vivid impressions. Travelling by the Siberian route I found myself in St. Petersburg among very warm-hearted strangers. They were kind indeed, but I often wondered what they were really thinking of my country and myself. In Berlin and in Paris I felt as if I were among long-parted friends. But while I recognized at once our kinship, they seemed to feel that there was a barrier between us—were strangers. Now in London I find myself treated not as a stranger, but as one coming among his own kin. I feel as if I would do were I revisiting the house of my uncle. No barrier separates us.

Much that I look on now for the first time seems strangely familiar. At first this puzzled me. When had I seen these things before? The men, the women, the children, the cattle, and the very dogs that ran by the roadway were all known to me, and it was as though I had lived among them for a long time. Then the cause of the familiarity came back to me. These were just what I had read about and studied so carefully in the English reading-books of my childhood.

By Decree of Public Opinion.

"Lex non scripta" might be written at the gateway of England. If I were asked the things that had impressed me most here I would reply the strength—sometimes the tyranny—of the Unwritten Law. Custom seems to rule absolutely in this country to an extent unknown and unimagined by me before. Custom limits the action of people more absolutely in England than strict, written legislation does in my own land. The Unwritten Law of England controls from the very great to the exceedingly little, and all men bow to it.

I find that my dress, the color of my purse, and the color of the very traveling bag I carry are decided for me by public opinion. I went into a shop to buy a leather purse. I was about to take a black one, when one of my companions interfered. "In this country," he said, "only ladies have black purses." "But why should not a man also have a black purse if he pleases?" How am I to account for this distinction? What is the reason? None. It is a tradition to which the people simply and unquestioningly conform.

I want a travelling bag. I dare not go into a shop and ask for a black one. No. The Unwritten Law has decreed that my bag must be of a brown shade. I must obey. Only ladies carry black bags in England.

The Unwritten Law, too, often takes the place of the policeman. Some years ago the metropolitan police in Tokio issued an order that in walking in the streets everyone should walk on the left side, and that if this order was not obeyed punishment by law would be inflicted. Several years have passed since then, and the police have been trying to enforce that traffic regulation. People constantly disobey it, and many walk on the right side or in the middle in spite of the efforts of the police. In London there is no law on the matter, and you are free to walk on the right or left or in the middle, as you please. But the Unwritten Law has decreed that you must go to the right, and everyone obeys it without any trouble to the police.

I notice the crowd at the doors of a London theatre. They form regularly by two by two. There is no policeman by; they do it of themselves, because it is their custom. In Tokio you would find a policeman on either side keeping the people strictly in order.

Cast-Iron Etiquette of Clothes.

I was going to visit a country house in the morning. I asked if I should wear a frock coat. My companion replied: "No, not even was a frock coat in this country in the morning," he said. Again I asked, why not? Why should I not? If I wished, wear my frock coat from breakfast till early evening? In Japan a man chooses his own costume; here public opinion decides what his coat shall be.

Everything is fixed historically, or rather traditionally, and sometimes I find it too much fixed. I am beginning to be puzzled about what I may and what I may not do. One morning I found on looking out of my window that it was raining. I noticed that very few people were carrying umbrellas. Everywhere one saw the announcement that it is "forbidden." You can read around you how you must act. In Berlin and in Paris, each cab has a "taximeter" that mechanically shows the distance driven and the fare to be paid. Now, in London there are very few taximeters. You go in a cab; at the end you cannot exactly tell either the distance or the fare. But people know how much to pay and how much to receive. Here is a point where the stranger, who does not know, would prefer that less was left to habit, for it is difficult for him to tell.

I was already accustomed to part of the strict routine followed by English people in dress from my knowledge of them in Japan. Here the strictness is more rigid.

A Bewildering Coinage.

The English coins have been an unfailing puzzle. Guinea, pounds, florins, crowns, half-crowns, shillings, and the rest—there is no end to them. I was often afraid that I shall miss my train while counting my change. Why does this country not adopt the decimal system?

The old-fashioned costumes worn by the officials of your historic institutions are to me a constant source of pleasure. The wig, livid, cocked hats and embroidered uniforms bring home to a stranger that England has behind her a great historic story, and help to show in the panorama of London's daily life the steps in the making of the English people.

In Japan we have a very complicated form of etiquette in serving ceremonial tea. It is called "chao-no-yu." In serving tea in this fashion the room must have a certain number of mats, certain flowers must be provided, and certain pictures must be hung. The host and guests must enter from certain points, walking slowly a fixed distance in a specified number of paces. The conduct of the host is fixed in the most minute details. He must take the hot water, and clean the tea-cup in the style established. For the guests there are as many minute forms for taking up the cup, drinking the tea, inspecting the cup after drinking, praising the host's entertainments as gentility, strictness, and obedience to laws are we believe, helped by it. So some English customs, like our "chao-no-yu," although strange to those who come among you for the first time, may be the life and essence of the nation. And I am sure that a patient learner to find joy and pleasure in them.

STRIKE RIOTS.

Trouble at Southern French Ports. Where Men Are Still Idle.

Paris, June 5.—A settlement of the seamen's strike has been reached this evening, the men of many of the ports refusing to adopt the recommendations of the delegates who came to Paris and voted to await the decision of the national committee, whose headquarters are in Marseilles. At some of the southern ports the strikers during the day manifested a turbulent spirit, and several violent riots were reported. The strikers of Cherbourg to-day unsuccessfully attempted to prevent the departure of the tenders sent off to meet the trans-Atlantic steamers.

THE OLD CEMETERY ON QUADRA STREET

Another Public Meeting Is to Be Called to Discuss This Vexed Question

Last night four members of the committee appointed at the public meeting, held for the consideration of the Quadra Street cemetery matter, held a conference with the civic cemetery committee in the city hall. No definite action was decided upon but Ald. Meston, on behalf of his committee, said that the latter was prepared to recommend that the council take over the old burial ground and keep it in order as long as those having friends or relatives buried there will give something toward the upkeep of the unknown graves. The committee will report on this to another public meeting to be held at an early date and will then lay before the civic body the public decision in the way of accepting or rejecting the civic offer. Until this is done the cemetery committee cannot recommend any definite action to the board of aldermen.

Before discussing the situation the joint committees last evening paid a visit to the old cemetery and noted its present condition. The unanimous decision was that the first step to be taken would be the cutting of the grass and weeds overgrowing the graves and the erection of a fence to keep vandals out of the ground. At the meeting, which was of brief duration, five members of the committee appointed at the public meeting were present. They were: Bishop Crie and Messrs. Fawcett, Heintzen, Chambers and Woolton. The civic committee, with the exception of Ald. Gleason, was complete, the chairman, Ald. Meston, presiding. There were also present, J. Stevens and J. Lovell.

A petition is now being circulated for signatures, setting forth that the former public meeting was not fully representative of the people having interest in the old cemetery and asking for signatures to a motion opposing the proposed action of the city in the way of controlling the plot. The chief opposition to the preservation of the place as a cemetery comes from residents of the Quadra Street district, who affirm that the place is entirely out of keeping with its surroundings. Many of these people ridicule the idea of allowing sentiment to interfere with the removal of the remains interred in the cemetery and its transformation into a small park or garden. They express the opinion that the cemetery is not only an eyesore at present but, even if it is rehabilitated it will continue to detract from the district as a residential portion of the city.

Ald. Meston, chairman of the cemetery committee, and the aldermen comprising that body, are in favor of removing the remains to Ross Bay, and transforming the present gruesome ground or garden. Ald. Meston says that the council will be willing to give free plots in Ross Bay cemetery for the interment of the remains and also to pay part of the cost of removing the latter. Unless the citizens who are opposed to this action make some proposition to the cemetery committee which meets with the approval of the latter, it is likely that the committee will make a recommendation to the council to proceed with the taking over of the cemetery as Ald. Meston, who has throughout, been the prime mover in the matter, will not brook much delay in having the present unsightly condition of the historic plot ameliorated.

MAN OF MANY TRADES.

TRIED TO EVADE CHINESE HEAD TAX

Case is Being Heard in Court Against Oriental Accused of Attempting Deception

In the police court yesterday the case against the Chinaman Quong Chan Duck, who recently tried to evade the head tax by representing himself as Leon Wing, the son of a local merchant, Lem Foo, came up for hearing. F. Higgins appeared for the prosecution and W. Moresby for the defence. J. Newbury, collector of customs, in his examination testified that he had examined the person claiming to be Leon Wing at his office, and that the accused had submitted documents, at present in his hands, and told him he was the son of a local Chinese merchant, Lem Foo, and was accordingly exempt from entrance taxation. He stated further in answer to Mr. Newbury's questions, that he had two brothers, 26 and 18 years respectively, and that he himself being 22 years of age, was the second son. His elder brother, whom he had not yet met, he said, came to Victoria last year, his younger brother was at school in China. His mother, Lee See, was living, and his father, Lem Foo, had a brother living in China. He also stated he had received a letter containing money from his father a few weeks prior to his departure.

Mr. Newbury stated that he had then examined the other Chinamen, Liam Poo, Sam Wai and Huc To, for the purpose of either verifying or disproving Leon Wing, alias Quong Chan Duck's statements and that on general lines the stories agreed very well.

Suspicion, however, was aroused that all was not just right while Mr. Newbury was examining Huc To, partly from his manner and partly also from Huc To's reputation.

Upon further examination, this suspicion was strengthened and Mr. Newbury, convinced that something was wrong, informed the Chinamen of his suspicion and told them that he would sift the matter to the bottom, even if it took several weeks.

The next morning three of the Chinamen were again examined by him in the presence of witness and made a clean confession of the whole affair. The accused admitted that he was Quong Chan Duck, that he was no relation to Lem Foo, and that he was liable to the tax of $200.

Huc To, however, did not appear, nor could he be anywhere found. It is thought he is in hiding. The accused stated further that $300 of his tax had already been sent from China. The three Chinamen, although they did not lay the whole blame on Huc To, nevertheless admitted that he had coached them and that between them they had drawn up the affidavits.

The Chinamen stated that they were not previously aware of the enormity of their crime and that they were exceedingly sorry for what they had done.

Mr. Newbury stated to the court that he himself thought Huc To was entirely responsible, being the ring-leader of the whole affair and that he had heard further that Huc To had received the $300 before mentioned.

The court then adjourned until this morning.
